New Head Likely For Philly Mint

The President has not made the appointment of the Superintendent of the Philadelphia Mint," said a spokesman at the White House, August 28, in answer to rumors to the contrary.

Philadelphia newspapers on August 22 carried stories about Michael H. Sura, 60, a former city procurement commissioner, being considered for the position, presently occupied by Mrs. Rae V. Biester, Drexel Hill, Pa.

The White House spokesman said the President has not made this appointment yet and it is not known whom the President is considering for this $13,700-a-year job.

Congressman William J. Green Jr., Philadelphia Democratic city chairman, said in Washington that Sura is one of several persons under consideration.

Other Democratic sources described Sura as the "leading contender" and said he probably will be recommended for the post by Green, the Philadelphia paper said.

In a note to Coin World, Mrs. Biester said: "I will retire—not resign!" Her statement clarifies (Continued on Page 2)

New Pictures In Handbook

R. S. Yeoman's Handbook of U. S. Coins, 19th edition, has recently been released by the Whitman Publishing Co. of Racine, Wis.

The Handbook, commonly known as the "Blue book," contains mint records and prices paid by dealers for all U. S. coins.

These prices, the publishers indicate, have been assembled from many widely separated sources and are averages. Slight differences in prices among dealers on some issues depend on proximity to the various mints and population centers.

In addition to the numerous price revisions the new Blue book contains several pages that are devoted to explaining the location of mint marks and other distinguishing marks on coins, information that is important for beginners, Whitman stated.

U.S. Releases New Dollar

Top: 1957 series dollar printed by the modern high-speed rotary press using the "dry sheet" process. Bottom: New 1935-G series dollar printed by the old "wet sheet" process.

Two Different Series Are Now Being Issued

A new series of one dollar silver certificates, 1935-G, was just released by the Treasury Department recently for use throughout the nation.

The new series notes, printed by the old style presses, do not carry the motto "In God We Trust," which has given rise to a flood of protest letters to the government.

"Sacks of it are coming in!" exclaimed Henry J. Holtzclaw, Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

The notes are of an old series, 1935, but carry the Elizabeth Rudel Smith and C. Douglas Dillon signatures, forming series 1935-G. The Smith-Dillon signature combination first appeared on the 1957-A series.

Explanation of the confused situation is that two series—produced by two different printing methods—are being manufactured and issued simultaneously.

The old 1935 series is printed by the "wet sheet" method where sheets have to be moist before being run through the gravure presses. This series bore no motto on the reverse.

Prior to 1957, high speed rotary presses were installed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington, D. C. These presses print by a "dry sheet" process at high speed that does not require moist sheets.

When plates were being prepared for the new presses the motto "In God We Trust" was added on the reverse, creating a major design change which was designated series 1957.

The new presses did not replace the old. Notes are currently being produced by both processes. Two series are being printed at once—the old 1935 series without the motto, and the new 1957 series with the motto.

Priest and Anderson were the first signature combinations to be printed on the new presses in 1957. The former signature combination was Priest and Humphrey and bore series 1935-E.

When the 1935-F series was released, little was said about the absence of the motto, according to Lyman Tucker, Apple Creek, Ohio, currency authority.

"The first explanation," says Tucker, "among confused collectors was that a small amount of paper for the old presses was being used up, and they were offered at about two dollars each on the market."

"Eventually the true explanation became generally known, that two series of dollar bills were being issued at the same time. It probably wasn't the first time it had happened," concluded Tucker.

"In God We Trust" To Go On All Silver Notes

Changeover To Be Final In 5 Years

By Margo Russell

The motto, "In God We Trust," is NOT being removed from United States currency—instead it will appear on ALL denominations of silver certificates within a five-year period.

Henry J. Holtzclaw, director of the Treasury Department's Bureau of Engraving and Printing, today declared in Washington that there was absolutely no basis for a rising flood of rumors sweeping the nation.

"There is absolutely no basis for such unfounded rumors," said a nettled Holtzclaw in an attempt to ward off mail protests from every section of the country.

The Treasury department official said such a move would be illegal and cited Public Law 140 which went into effect October 1, 1957, which made it mandatory to include "In God We Trust" on all silver certificates as rapidly as possible.

"There are about three billion one dollar notes without the motto," Holtzclaw admitted, "But these were issued during a transition period as we continue to make a change-over in printing methods—from a wet paper to a dry process."

These notes bear the signatures of the new Secretary of the Treasury, C. Douglas Dillon, and the new Treasurer of the United States, Elizabeth Rudel Smith.

Holtzclaw refused to become involved in a highly technical explanation of currency printing processes, but he pointed out there is a change-over in progress and currency is being printed by two methods until the transformation is completed—probably at the end of five years.

The change is from the use of wet paper with its 50 per cent moisture content to a dry, modern system with high speed presses.

Appalachian Convention Staged In Knoxville, Tenn.

Coin clubs from four states are participating in a joint convention this week, as the Appalachian Confederation of Coin Clubs holds its second annual meeting on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 8-10 at the Andrew Johnson Hotel in Knoxville, Tenn., with the Smoky Mountain Coin Club of Knoxville as host.

The Confederation comprises coin clubs in southern West Virginia, East Tennessee, southwestern Virginia, and western North Carolina. Its first convention was held last year in Bristol, the "twin city" of Virginia-Tennessee, with some 1,000 persons in attendance. Twice that number are expected this week.

Exhibits are expected to be the feature of the convention, highlighted by a special classification for juniors or collectors under 21 years of age. Preliminary plans were made for displays in all classes valued at close to the $2 million mark. Awards for competitive exhibits will be in the form of plaques.

Peter B. Payne of California will conduct the auction, and Grover Criswell of Florida, authority on Confederate paper money, is scheduled to be the banquet speaker, giving a coast-to-coast atmosphere to this regional affair.

Originally set for another site, the convention was moved to the Andrew Johnson Hotel to allow room for the anticipated increase in attendance and a greater demand from dealers for bourse space, and an extra day was added, according to general chairman Jasper Payne.

Nab Texas Man Altering Coins

Law enforcement officers in Fort Worth, Texas, with the arrest of three men, may have broken up a widespread swindling ring that altered Lincoln cents to bilk coin collectors out of money.

The charge was filed under the name of Robert Dale Brown, 20. However, the name is an alias and similar charges are being prepared in the man's real name.

Two of Brown's accomplices are also being charged.

Brown was accused of placing a spurious "S" mint mark on a 1909 Lincoln VDB cent and then selling it for $40. Brown was apprehended after the "S" dropped from the coin.

Want To Be Millionaire?

How would you like to be a Bolivian millionaire? All it takes is 100 U. S. dollars. Here's the secret:

Bolivia's monetary unit is the boliviano. Then one of the world's worst cases of inflation set in, and today it takes 12,000 bolivianos to buy $1.

So for $100 you can buy 1,200,000 bolivianos. Presto, you're a millionaire—Bolivian style. But you'd need a truck to carry it.

Piqua Club Will Hold Installation

Installation of recently elected officers will take place at the next meeting of the Piqua, Ohio, Coin Club, scheduled for Wednesday, September 13, in the basement rooms of the Piqua National Bank building, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Eugene Grant of Piqua was chosen president, replacing Howard Ford who declined re-nomination, while Rudolph Trissell of Piqua, 1961 secretary, was elected vice president.

Peg Daughterty of Troy, former chairman of the membership committee, was named secretary, replacing Trissell, and H. O. Barnett of Troy was re-elected treasurer, the only holdover in major office.

Personnel of two committees, coin appraisal and membership, and two trustees and a sergeant at arms were also elected. These included:

Clarence Ford and James Norris, Piqua, and L. E. Bretland, Troy, coin appraisal committee; Barnhart, Howard Griffith Jr., Sidney, and Eugene Carroll, Piqua, membership committee; Everett Snapp, St. Paris, and Clarence Ford, trustees; and Roger Clevenger, Sidney, sergeant at arms.

At the election meeting, 10 new members were accepted into the club, bringing the total roster to 129.

the newspaper's account that she would resign from the post.

The position as Superintendent of the Philadelphia Mint is a presidential appointment, subject to Senate confirmation.

Mrs. Biester was appointed by former President Eisenhower in June, 1953.

Sura was forced by Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth to resign a $16,500-a-year procurement job on May 26 in a disagreement over a subordinate. Sura supported a deputy, Charles B. O'Gorman, after O'Gorman had been fired for taking $300 and a bottle of liquor from a contractor.

Mayor Dilworth said Sura's actions were disloyal, and then gave him 90 days to look for another job.

F.B.I. agents had begun a routine check of Sura, it was reported by the Philadelphia newspaper, a requirement for a Federal job.

Dallas Show To Feature McDermott's 1913 Nickel

Plans for the "Big D" Coiners' Club, Dallas, Tex., show to be held at the Preston State Bank, 8111 Preston road, Dallas, on September 27-30 are now in their final stages, reported Allen Maxwell Jr., show chairman.

J. V. McDermott and his 1913 Liberty head nickel will undoubtedly take the exhibit spotlight.

"All signs point to the fulfillment of the prediction that this show will be the biggest numismatic event in Dallas since the 1953 American Numismatic Association convention," commented Maxwell.

Inquiries regarding the show should be directed to Maxwell at 6610 Northwood, Dallas 25, Tex.

Quad County Coin Club Plans All-Day Show

The Quad County Coin Club, Clyde, Ohio, is planning an all-day coin show, auction and bourse for September 24, at the Clyde Armory, Main and Washington streets, reported Vernon Barbour, general chairman.

Bourse space is still available, announced John Ziegler, club secretary, and reservations may be secured by sending a check for $7 to William Wleheon, 605 Union Place, Fremont, Ohio.

Ziegler also reported that nearly 200 lots of coins will be auctioned off, mostly U. S. items. The action will be a floor bid sale only, with 500 catalogs being printed describing the material.

Kenneth Smith is auction chairman, while William Hurrelbrink has been appointed as auctioneer.

Show and bourse will continue from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and the auction starts promptly at 1 p.m.

Clyde, seven miles east of Fremont, may be reached by using U. S. Highway 20.

Riverside Meets

Thursday, September 7, has been set for the next meeting of the Riverside Coin Club of Plymouth, Mich., to be held at the American Legion Hall on Sheldon Road, starting at 8 p.m. An auction will be held. Visitors are welcome.

and Oren Harris of Arkansas, introduced a bill for "In God We Trust" to be included on currency. President Eisenhower signed it into law July 11, 1955.

The bill specified "at such time as new dies for the printing of currency are adopted...the dies shall bear...the inscription...and thereafter this inscription should appear on all United States currency and coins."

First die change came about in 1957, according to Holtzclaw.

Currency students know that all U. S. paper money is dated—with the date of a congressional act that authorized the issue, or it may be the series year.

However, the year appearing on a given note is not necessarily the year it was printed and issued—a complete departure from the mintage process of coinage.

Those who wish to specialize in currency must study chronological listings of various treasury officials who sign currency, and check the periods of time during which they held office concurrently. Then they can determine when all notes—with the exception of national bank notes—were printed.

Robert Friedberg's Paper Money of the United States contains such a table along with the series numbers for the information of collectors.

Members Urged To Write, Talk

Hugh Knight, president of the Chicago Coin Club, in an editorial appearing in the August 9 issue of Chicago Coin Club Chatter, urged all members to prepare papers on their collections or outstanding coins.

Knight emphasized that collectors in many cases spend considerable time researching their coins, but "this knowledge of yours is being wasted if you don't share it with others."

"So how about sitting down and writing a paper," concluded Knight, "one pertaining to your prize coin, or entire collection, to be read before the club."

The papers will be judged at the end of the year and medals will be awarded for the best presentations.

Johnson Speaks

Charles M. Johnson spoke on U. S. numismatic literature at the August meeting of the Culver City, Calif. Coin Club, reported Milliecent Fishel, club secretary.

Scouts To Profit From Club Auction

Hopewell, Va., Boy and Girl Scouts were to receive all profits from the first auction conducted by the Hopewell Coin Club in August, reports on which were expected to be made at the club's meeting on Tuesday, September 5, in the Hopewell Community building.

The club was organized last spring, but had not held an auction until the one scheduled in August.

Martin Speaks On U.S. Coins

A. I. Martin, president of the Texas Numismatic Association, was the honored guest at a recent meeting of the San Benito, Tex., Coin Club held at the Boganville Room of the San Benito Community Building.

Martin spoke on and exhibited his collection of uncirculated flying eagle, Indian, and Lincoln cents, and shield nickels.

Charles Nash, a U. S. customs official, spoke on Federal regulations concerning the importation of gold bullion and gold coins.

The talks were followed by an auction consisting of more than 100 items. Sgt. George Gillespie of Harlington Air Force Base served as auctioneer.

Shapiro Dies At 73; Noted Gold Collector

Jacob F. Shapiro, 73, who built and sold two collections of gold coins, and who was working on a third, died in Chicago, Ill., August 24.

Well known to dealers as "Jake Bell" collector of gold coins, Shapiro remained anonymous to the average collector.

His first collection of gold coins—a series that fascinated him for over thirty years—was sold by Stacks, New York, in 1944.

A second collection, formed in four years, was sold by A. Kosoff, Encino, Calif., in 1948.

Shapiro was currently assembling a third collection and lacked only a few coins to complete the entire series.

Rare gold coins, like the 1870-S $3 and 1822 $5 he lacked, but they were offered to him by B. G. Johnson, St. Louis Stamp & Coin Company, when Johnson was still alive.

After negotiations for these coins fell through with Shapiro, the coins subsequently were sold to Louis Eliasberg, famous Baltimore collector.

Shapiro was owner of the Bell Discount Company. He was a noted philanthropist in addition to being an enthusiastic numismatist.

He had donated hospital equipment in the name of Hadassah, a Jewish women's organization, and also had helped Israeli students through medical school.

Shapiro collapsed at a Chicago airport where he was to meet an east coast coin dealer, and was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Shapiro is survived by his wife Belle, a son David, and four grandchildren. Funeral services were held August 28.

Golden Rule Tokens Go On Sale By Michigan Club

Tokens to spread the gospel of the golden rule in the face of world tensions are being distributed by the Cereal City Coin Club of Battle Creek, Michigan.

M. Merle Smith, president of the club is credited with the design of the novel token. He was invited by the Cereal City festival chairman, Gerald Smith, to suggest a medallion souvenir for the affair.

Smith, who reasoned that trade "coins" were struck last year and would not be much of a novelty, took out a "golden rule" marble he got from Jesse Shwayder, president of Samsonite Luggage Co.

Why couldn't coins be used to help spread the golden rule, he reasoned. So he designed the reverse of the token with the center of the UN emblem and inserted a dove with an olive branch flying from the U. S. toward Asia. The outside edge was encircled with the golden rule.

The obverse is a slight rearrangement of the Battle Creek festival's insignia.

Although a total of 4,600 50 cent size goldine tokens were ordered, the die broke twice and the number actually struck were just under 1,500 pieces. Delivery was delayed, too, leaving a sizeable amount for distribution by the Cereal City Coin Club. They are being sold two for one dollar plus a self-addressed stamped envelope. They may be ordered from Festival Coin, 321 North Ridgeway Drive, Battle Creek, Michigan.

Justice Retires To Take Up Hobby

Philip S. Justice, of Denver, Colo., can now turn full attention to his coin collection—plus the making and using of duck callers, fishing lures, quail hunting, and cooking.

Justice, special assistant to John G. Pew, senior vice president in charge of production for Sun Oil Company, retired July 1 after serving the company for over 41 years.

Well-versed in coin collecting are these pro-tem officers of the newly-formed Akron, Ohio, Firestone Coin Club (left to right): Austin Keplar, secretary-treasurer; Fred Lutz, vice president, and Andrew Falatok, president, all of Steel Products. The club meets in the Clubhouse the second Thursday of each month.

Akron Club Plans Open House

The Firestone Coin Club of Akron, Ohio, founded in January of 1961 has, 45 adult and six junior members, according to secretary Austin L. Keplar.

Meetings are held the second Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Firestone Club House at Firestone Parkway.

Plans are underway for an open house for members to display coins, stamps and medals.

Indiana Club Has Exhibits

Central Indiana Collectors Club held their August 14 meeting at the Firestone Cafeteria, Noblesville, Ind., reported Mrs. Hazel M. Landis, club secretary.

Members brought in prize items from their collections with George Herron's frame of Philippine currency creating considerable interest.

Kenneth Wright, public relations officer from the Firestone Co. will speak on "Collecting" at the September 19 meeting.

Coast Writer Leaves Coins To Actor Son

Hollywood writer John W. Considine Jr., 63, left his coin collection to his actor son, Tim Considine, 20, of Hollywood, it was revealed when his will was filed for probate in Superior Court.

Most of his estate went to his mother, Elizabeth, of Los Angeles. Considine died March 22. The will was dated June 10, 1953.

Issues Replaced

Canadian commemorative coins replaced regular issues of specified years and were released in a normal manner at face value.

Midwest Show Dates Moved Up One Week

The date for the Midwest Coin Show sponsored by the Heart of America Coin Club in Kansas City, Mo. has been moved up from Thanksgiving weekend to November 17-19.

Conflict came, not with the holiday, but with a football game! Thanksgiving weekend is the scheduled Missouri University and Kansas University game.

Last year the first holiday weekend convention was tried and proved to be success according to Ray Lefman, and Ralph Bondon, co-chairmen for the event last year as well as this year.

The convention attracted 7,000 collectors and 50 dealers. It was believed to be that large because it was the only convention held that holiday weekend anywhere in the country.

Bourse tables for this year's three day show are still available at $40.00 per table, according to the general chairmen.

They can be obtained by writing the chairmen at: 412 South Van Brunt Blvd., Kansas City, Missouri.

Divorce The Bourse?

Outgoing president of the American Numismatic Association, Oscar H. Dodson, made a seven-point series of recommendations to the Board of Governors as he stepped out of office.

Dick Johnson

Point seven created quite a stir in Atlanta and has been tagged "divorce the bourse." Here is his recommendation:

7. That the executive board give serious consideration to the elimination of the bourse at the A.N.A. national convention with increased emphasis placed on the exhibits of members and on social and educational activities.

In regard to this statement, Admiral Dodson said: "The A.N.A. is a cultural and educational organization. It is not a bazaar."

The reasons behind the recommendation are two-fold, according to Admiral Dodson. Some dealer pressure at local and regional conventions has been exercised to eliminate all activities that conflict with the bourse. Some banquets and sight-seeing trips have already been eliminated.

Hotel accommodations is the other reason. As the conventions grow larger, obtaining adequate hotel facilities become more difficult.

On the other hand we have the statements by Sol Kaplan, spokesman for the dealers through the Professional Numismatists Guild: "Conventions are becoming big business," he says, "and should be run like big business."

The P.N.G. has offered to manage a convention, including paying the travel expenses of the officers to the convention city, and turning any profit over to the parent organization. Kaplan indicated that the majority of the revenue would come from the dealers themselves, from bourse rentals and from auction commissions.

The problem will be larger in future years according to Kaplan. Local clubs may not be fortunate to have management talent in their organizations, and as the national convention moves from city to city, an inexperienced group has the responsibility each time.

Under Kaplan's proposal, experienced management each time would virtually guarantee financial success of a national convention.

Now that the positions of the two sides have been exposed, what should be the course for future national conventions?

The collector interest in buying coins at conventions should preclude its elimination. If the bourse was cut out, attendance would drop. Collectors come to a convention to add items to their collections.

While the social activities will continue to function, whether organized or not under either proposal, the educational part is the key to the solution.

Recent national conventions have shown a marked increase in the interest in the educational programs. At the local and regional level, educational programs generally flop.

Since national conventions attract top ranking numismatists, the educational program at the A.N.A. should be expanded. Instead of one such evening, why not several?

But to divorce the bourse would break up the happy marriage of buying and learning at national conventions!

Letters To The Editor

I have received both your advisory telegram and letter of congratulations enclosed with my check. At this time I would like to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude to Coin World, the judges of the contest; Mr. Shroyer, Miss McAuley and Mr. Bowers and to all the people connected with your fine paper who have combined their efforts to produce a great contest and an even better publication. Once again my thanks to all of you.

Bruce Northrup
Amsterdam, N. Y.

I have read almost every word of Coin World these past two months, and can sincerely say that I would never agree for the paper to be changed to two weeks.

I have been closed in for seven weeks, and expect a few more. I can't make any "finds" or do any buying but I'm getting a good education from the paper alone.

This dispute over medals is nonsense; I for one feel every man to his own taste. I think we should have a section for gun collectors since most clubs are gun and coin clubs. I am not interested in guns, but we might even convert some of these collectors.

I have 90 issues of C.W. to go, though I can not afford to buy any coins, and can't write about "finds"—(which I would love to find just one) I'm looking forward to every issue, it really helps. I fully intend to renew any time and as often as necessary to avoid missing an issue; it's worth every bit of the effort.

Roy V. Yarbrough
Eglin A.F.B., Fla.

Enclosed is money order, thanks for trusting me. I appreciate it very much.

I have been receiving mail from other magazines for me to put my ad in their papers, but you can rest assured that when I am ready for another sale, it will be in Coin World.

John Santorso
Bristol, Conn.

In the past few weeks, since I have been subscribing to your paper, I have answered three or four of the ads in the "wanted" section of the classified section. I am still awaiting my first response from any one of these. At least they could have the courtesy to answer. If they don't intend to buy, why do they advertise?

S. H. Weisberg
Los Angeles 34, Calif.

My father and I subscribe to Coin World, and my brother is now also a guest of your paper.

The reason for this letter is to commend one Thomas A. Domhoff of 11 Northwood St., Rochester 7, N. Y., a dealer and not only an honest dealer, but a fair dealer. What I mean by this is we are coin collectors for almost 25 years. We have great pride in our commemoratives, medals, tokens, etc. We send to all parts of the U.S. and Canada. So many of the dealers send us tarnished, chipped, scratched, etc. merchandise because it is by mail and not in person. I am now sending this "junk" back to them and demanding a refund; surprising to me I've had no trouble. Why don't these dealers send their merchandise thru the mail as though they were dealing over the counter.

Our hats off to Mr. Domhoff who deals thru the mail as though we were face to face.

We also wrote a letter to Mr. Domhoff letting him know we appreciate his honest, and fair treatment in our dealings. Many thanks.

Elwood S. Yerlor
Worthington, Ohio

Ordinarily, your editorials on news and happenings of the day are quite along my way of thinking and I find them acceptable. Not so with your recent remarks about the confiscation of a racketeer nickel.

An 1883 Liberty head nickel without the word cents is a perfectly legitimate coin and none has ever been confiscated.

It is only after this nickel has

Ann KuppArt and friend . . .

This is the text of a letter accompanying the adjacent photograph, written by Ann KuppArt, secretary, Shawnee Hills Medalists, Harrisburg, Ill.

J. Oliver Amos, Business Mgr.
Coin World
Dear Mr. Amos:

In case you aren't a gun collector, what I have in my hand is a Remington .41 over and under derringer that blows great big holes in people who spell my name KUPPART when the copy says KUPPART. See page 52, August 11 issue.

Very truly yours,
Ann KuppArt, Secretary

been gold plated that it becomes a "racketeer nickel" and a fraud that should be suppressed and all other fakes advertised and sold even through your own paper which should be above such obvious money greed.

Another fraud foisted on the ignorant and gullible new collectors are the so-called California gold tokens with old dates in imitation of the genuine pioneer California gold coins.

Not always do the advertisers make any distinction nor explain that these bits of plated brass or low carat gold are practically worthless and have no place in a coin collection any more than a racketeer nickel.

Why do you accept and run such ads? There can only be one answer.

C. W. Cooperrider
St. Petersburg, Fla.

I am enclosing my check for a two-year renewal to your excellent paper. Please keep it coming! I've been looking forward to receiving this year's Canadian proof-like sets in the new sealed package.

I imagine my disappointment when I received them to find all the cents fingerprinted and spotted. Can't you ask our good neighbors to handle the coins more carefully?

Don Robertson
Bartow, Fla.

Bulsh has taken St. Louis by storm. Seldom has this old town been moved by so much excitement. Maybe when the Browns won the pennant in 1944 or at least not since the Missouri Numismatic Society announced the second annual coin festival August 12 and 13 at the Statler has anything met with more enthusiasm.

Our heartwarming circulation find: A St. Louis collector reports finding 49 dimes in a roll. The 50th dime, he asserts, is an elusive Bulsh with complete, wide open space in B.U. condition. The Bulsh was found after sprinkling talcum over the surrounding countryside. Dime Bulshes, it is noted, haven't as large wide open space as half dollar bulshes, not can you expect it.

In passing, just one warning: Beware of altered Bulshes. Not every wide open space is genuine. We are presently paying highest prices for half bulshes through gold and commemorative. Write first.

Bob Woodside
St. Louis, Mo.

I am very sick to my stomach over the letter by someone in Hickory, N. C. This person has nothing better to do than to degrade your wonderful paper as much as he can. It is very disgusting.

I don't see why he even has to send in a degrading letter like that and use up the space that someone else could use who is thankful to have such an up-to-date numismatic paper.

He says, and I quote, "I must admit that there have been a few interesting features." Well, then why doesn't he name some of them? The good features out-number the criticized ones 1,000 to one.

He also says it is a medal-pushers' paradise. I take it he doesn't like medals. I want to commend you very highly for your wonderful work on the information and pictures you presented every week for the last few months about the Kennedy, Alaska, Hawaii, Santa Fe, USS Enterprise and Civil War medals.

When he said that he wasn't going through all the junk to find the good features he must have been reading some other paper because he surely wasn't reading Coin World.

Some people criticize and don't even think of all the hard work and research it takes to put out Coin World once a week. Keep up the excellent work. A Coin World fan forever.

PRESIDENTIAL ART PRESENTS LINCOLN MEDAL

We at Presidential Art Medals, Inc., take pride in introducing the new Lincoln medal . . . second in the series of finely sculptured, high quality Presidential Art Medals. This medal, like all medals in the series, will be struck by MEDALLIC ART COMPANY, the only American company devoted exclusively to sculptured bas-relief. The intricate design and sculptured work was done by MR. RALPH MENCONI, a sculptor internationally recognized for his abilities in full portrait and high relief work. A leaflet describing his work accompanies each medal.

This is a CONTINUING PROGRAM and three or four medals a year will be struck until the series of all Presidents is complete. New medals will be struck thereafter as Presidents are inaugurated. This exclusive offering will be a treasured possession whether you desire only one, or the entire series.

Among the more important reasons contributing to the increasing value of the precious medals is the fact that PRODUCTION IS LIMITED to the quantities shown below and unusually HIGH STANDARDS OF WORKMANSHIP are strictly maintained. The PRACTICAL SIZE of the medal (slightly larger than a half dollar) makes it particularly well suited to display in an album, which will be offered about December 1.

The Abraham Lincoln medal is offered as follows:

Platinum (pure)	25 serially numbered pieces	Sold Out
Silver (.999+)	6500 serially numbered pieces	$10.00 ea.
Bronze		$ 2.50 ea.

Dealer inquiries are invited.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST ON THE PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY MEDAL.

One thousand Kennedy bronze medals were purchased by the State Department, four hundred of which were for distribution by President Kennedy himself on his mission to Paris, Vienna and London this past spring.

These medals are still available, in bronze only, at $2.50 each.

Orders are filled in the order received. To avoid disappointment, we suggest that you select and order your Presidential Art Medals today. Ohio residents add 3% sales tax.

Scasserra Sentenced

Philip Scasserra was sentenced for from 2½ to 5 years in prison for the Bamford coin robbery, and for from 9 to 18 months for the Williams coin robbery, by Judge William F. Cercone of the Allegheny County Circuit Court, Pittsburgh, on Friday, August 25.

The two sentences are to run concurrently.

Frank Antonucci, a Scasserra accomplice, was sentenced for from 6 to 12 months for receiving stolen goods.

Scasserra had been convicted by the Allegheny court on August 18 for stealing $4,000 worth of coins from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, Pleasant Hills, Pa., in June 1960.

At that time, he was also convicted for burglarizing the home of August Bamford, Munhall, Pa., and stealing a $50,000 coin collection on January 29, 1961.

Most of the coins from the Williams and Bamford collections have not thus far been accounted for. August Bamford had spent 60 years in building up his collection.

Trends Of Today's U.S. Coin Values

Built-in Growth Is In Youngsters

By Jim Kelly

333 West First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

If any further evidence was needed, the American Numismatic Association's convention in Atlanta certainly furnished conclusive proof that numismatics and coin collecting is the greatest of all hobbies and growing by leaps and bounds. There was a time when it was considered an old man's hobby but this is certainly not true today!

Jim Kelly

The interest and knowledge shown by youngsters is really amazing and certainly speaks well for the future of numismatics.

It was our privilege to examine the junior displays which were presented in competition at the convention and we were pleasantly surprised at the quality and originality shown. Many would not have been out of place in the senior competition. A great number of the junior collectors are today getting most of their coins from circulation.

The terrific response to Coin World's junior contest has been a revelation to many old time numismatists and is most pleasant to contemplate... that the youngsters are still attracted and that their interest is growing.

This means more than ever before that the dealers and coin clubs everywhere should encourage them more and more as they will be tomorrow's numismatist and customer.

The demand for choice material and the tendency toward higher prices at the A.N.A. convention was evidently an indication of the trend of fall business as most of the dealers we talked to during the past week have reported an increase in sales over that of a month ago.

Starting in September there will be a great many coin conventions held throughout the country and we feel that any collector or dealer will find it profitable in more ways than one to attend one or more of these meetings.

It's not only a fine opportunity to buy or sell coins but practically all of these meetings have an educational program which is quite interesting and beneficial, especially to the beginner. There will be a meeting in practically every section of the country so plan to attend if at all possible.

Fair To Very Fine Starts In On Mail: Grading Re-Examined

By James G. Johnson

Unfinished business: 1934 Quarter Club; Early Half Dollars; Collector-Dealer relations; letters in reply to the "Mail Bid Welsher" column (received some surprising comments on Mail Bid Sales); Coin Grading; columns emphasizing different denominations; Collection Insurance; Answers to letters; 1916-D dimes; and a good deal more that escapes me at the moment.

J. Johnson

All those are topics that have either been promised or requested to be discussed in this column, and I am trying to make up my mind what to do this week. Guess I'll answer the mail.

Charles W. McLemore of Decatur, Ala., says he agrees with a recent column on grading and pricing; that a dealer or collector who sells duplicates is within his rights in "up-grading" his prices, but should NEVER up-grade his coins. He says a coin to grade "Good" must have a full and complete rim, regardless of anything else.

That makes Mr. McLemore slightly more conservative than I am, although I will go along with him to the extent that a worn rim can never be worn into the lettering or figures of the date, on any coin and still have the coin graded Good.

To go both ways from that, a coin can be graded About Good (AG, or Abt. Gd., etc.) if the wear has gone no more than half way down the lettering from the rim, in other words, the lettering is completely legible although not completely clear as it must be for Good. More wear than that reduces the grade to "Fair" or possibly "Very Fair".

Right now I anticipate some letters from collectors who don't recognize that the grades of "Fair" and "Very Fair" can exist. For excuse I need only cite one of the best known numismatic authorities, Dr. William H. Sheldon, who made a definitive study of large cents before 1816, and whose book was revised not long ago in collaboration with Dorothy I. Paschal and Walter Breen under the title of "Penny Whimsey".

Incidentally, for a study of grading and a real understanding of it, I urge the reading of that book. EVERY coin club library should have it, if only because of the chapter on grading and the relating of grading and values. I guarantee it will be an "eye-opener" for a good many collectors.

Dr. Sheldon originated what is often called the "Sheldon scale", which runs from "1" to 70. The condition 1 coin is simply identifiable and not mutilated, frequently described as "poor". If mutilated, it becomes "junk".

On the other end, the condition 70 coin is perfection, just as it left the Mint but with perfect color and without a nick or scratch which is certainly not true of all coins as they leave the Mint. Sheldon allows 10 points for "Uncirculated" coins, that is, 60 to 70 are what he calls "Mint State", rather than Uncirculated as he knows and admits that an uncirculated coin can sometimes be in terrible condition.

But an MS60 is still a top-grade uncirculated coin, even though it may not be a perfect "gem". For AU, (Almost Uncirculated, Abt. Uncirculated, etc.) he gives the condition 50 label, with 51 to 59 representing minute improvements toward condition 60 or truly uncirculated. AU55 might represent what some dealers advertise as "AU-Unc." which is an impossible condition to state in words.

Going back to the other end of the scale, which will interest more collectors, Dr. Sheldon lists Condition 2 as corresponding to "Fair", and Condition 3 as "Very Fair", which is where we came in.

I think it is worth going a little further with, however. Sheldon's Condition 4 is "Good", which leaves no room for "AG", an implication that About Good and Very Fair should be names for the same grade or condition. On the other hand, his Condition 7 is "Very Good", which leaves Condition 5 and 6 for "Good Plus" and "About Very Good".

That might just be "splitting hairs" anyway. If a coin is described as Condition 6 or "Good 6", the collector would know it was better than "Good" but not quite "Very Good", and no names are needed.

Condition 12 is "Fine", Condition 20 is "Very Fine", and Condition 40 is "Extremely Fine", which leads us up to the AU50. About that one, Dr. Sheldon says that to recognize its condition, a magnifier is probably necessary, since it is that close to being Mint state. If the fact that a coin is not uncirculated is plain to the naked eye, for any other reason than its color, then it is probably not AU either, but somewhere between VF35 and EF45.

Kelly Predicts Active Season

"Look forward to an active season," said James Kelly, in review of the auction sale his firm, World Numismatics Inc., Dayton, Ohio, conducted for the American Numismatic Association at its convention in Atlanta, Ga., August 16 through 19.

"This is possibly the beginning of the real boom which I have predicted for next year," said Kelly, "if sales and prices realized at the A.N.A. convention are indicative of the fall trend of business, which most people believe it is."

The three session sale contained 1883 lots, consisting of United States coins, some foreign, ancient, currency, and medals.

The entire printing of 1,500 catalogs disappeared as 750 collectors bid both by mail and on the floor; 400 collectors bid in person.

"Small cents, particularly the proof Indian heads, sold for prices that even the most optimistic con-signor never expected," said auc-tioneer Kelly.

"Prices ranged from 25 per cent over to double catalog, and a few even higher." Kelly gave as an example the 1864 proof Indian cent bronze which catalogs for $110 and brought $320.

Picnic To Be Held By Blackhawk Group

Blackhawk Coin and Stamp Club, Byron, Ill., will hold its seventh annual picnic on September 17 at the Blackhawk Grange Hall on State Route 64, one mile east of Mount Morris, Ill., reports Walter K. Dillow, club president.

Dillow said that all collectors are welcome and that there will be no charge for bourse tables. He added that the picnic will be an all-day affair, giving collectors plenty of time for trading.

Highest priced item in the sale was the 1868 large cent, lot 1440, the rarest U.S. copper coin, which sold for $3,500.

Some examples of outstanding lots from this sale are as follows:

1. Montgomery, Ala., $1,000 note, Criswell-1, $650.

A black and white illustration of a squirrel hanging upside down from a tree branch. The squirrel's body is oriented vertically, with its head at the bottom and its tail at the top. Its front paws are gripping the branch. The squirrel's tail is large and bushy, with a dark outer edge and a lighter, textured center. There are several leaves around the squirrel: one large leaf to the left, and several smaller ones near the branch it is hanging from. The background is plain white.

Soviets Give Details Of Newest Currency In Embassy Press Release

Soviet State Bank Notes is the topic of the latest numismatic communique forwarded to Coin World from the Press Department of the Embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in Washington.

A detailed description of the currency of the 1961 issue is contained in the release: An earlier story giving photos and description of the new currency appeared in February 1961 edition of Coin World, written by an American authority on Russian monetary affairs.

Readers will find it interesting to contrast the two stories. The Soviet release follows here:

USSR State Bank notes of 100- and 50-ruble denominations are printed on paper having on a blank marginal space a watermark profile of V. I. Lenin, while notes of 25- and 10-ruble denominations are printed on paper with a watermark pattern of evenly spaced, alternating small light and dark five-pointed stars covering the whole note.

On the face side the 100-, 50-, 25-, and 10-ruble notes bear the inscription (in Russian): "Note of USSR State Bank," and "Bank notes are guaranteed by gold, precious metals and other assets of the State Bank." On the reverse side they bear the following: the denomination in the languages of the union republics, the words (in Russian) "Counterfeiting of State Bank notes is punishable by law," and two identical seven-digit numbers and a serial letter.

On the face side, the 50-, 25- and 10-ruble notes carry the figure "1961," designating the year of issue, and the 100-ruble note carries this on the reverse side.

The 100-ruble note of the USSR State Bank is olive-colored, and has a pale blue strip across the middle which gradually merges on either side into the note's general olive tint.

The 50-ruble note of the USSR State Bank is green in color and it has a pink strip across the middle which gradually merges into the note's general green tint.

Depicted on the face side are Lenin's profile, on the left-hand side; the coat of arms of the USSR in a vignette; the figure "50"; the inscription in Russian "Fifty Rubles" in the center; and below that the figure "50" twice, and the figure "50" in a counter at the bottom of the blank margin on the right.

Depicted on the reverse side are—a view of the Government Building of the Moscow Kremlin framed in an oval vignette with the Russian letters "СССР" (standing for "USSR") at the top of the oval, and in the bottom of the oval the figure "50"; the inscription in Russian "Fifty Rubles" beneath the oval; and the figure "50" in a varicolored counter at the bottom of the blank margin on the left.

The 25-ruble note of the USSR State Bank is lilac in color. It has a green strip across the middle, which gradually merges into the note's general lilac tint.

The 10-ruble note of the USSR State Bank is pink in color and has a yellow strip across the middle, which gradually merges into the note's general pink tint.

Depicted on the face side are the profile of Lenin on the right; the arms of the USSR in the upper left-hand corner; the figure "10" in a counter in the lower left-hand corner; the figure "10", in the upper right-hand corner; the inscription in Russian "Ten Rubles" against the background of the figure "10" in the center; and the figure "10" in a counter at the bottom of the blank margin on the right.

The state currency notes of 5-, 3- and 1-ruble denominations are printed on paper with a watermark pattern of evenly-spaced, alternating, small light and dark five-pointed stars covering the whole note.

On the face side the 5-, and 3- and 1-ruble notes have the inscriptions in Russian: "State Currency Note of the USSR," "State currency notes are ensured by the whole wealth of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and are obligatory for acceptance throughout the territory of the USSR for all payments, by all offices, enterprises and persons according to their face value" and the number "1961" denoting the year of issue.

On the reverse side the notes carry the inscriptions: the denomination of the note in the languages of the union republics and "Counterfeiting of State Currency Notes is punishable by law," in Russian.

One seven-digit number of the note and a serial letter is printed on the face side of the 3- and 1-ruble notes and on the reverse side of the 5-ruble note.

The 5-ruble state currency note is blue. Across the middle is an orange strip gradually merging into the general blue color of the note.

Depicted on the face side are the Spasskaya Tower of the Moscow Kremlin, the coat of arms of the USSR in a vignette in the upper left-hand corner, the figure "5" in the lower left-hand and upper right-hand corners, the inscription in Russian "Five Rubles" against the background of figure "5" in the center and the inscription "five" in a rosette below it, and the figure "5" in a counter at the bottom of the blank space in the right part of the note.

Depicted on the reverse side are: the figures "5" in varicolored vignettes at both sides of the note, the inscription "Five Rubles" in Russian in a counter in the middle, and the figure "5" at the bottom of the blank space in the left part of the note.

The 3-ruble state currency note is green. Across the middle is a violet strip gradually merging into the general green color of the note.

Depicted on the face side are the Moscow Kremlin, the coat of arms of the USSR in the upper left-hand corner, the figure "3" in a rosette in the upper right-hand corner, the inscription "Three Rubles" in Russian over a vignette in the center, and the figure "3" in a rosette at the bottom of the blank space in the right-hand corner.

On the reverse side are the inscription "Three Rubles" in Russian in a varicolored vignette, the figure "3" in a varicolored octagonal counter in the upper right-hand corner, and the figure "3" at the bottom of the blank space in the left-hand corner.

The 1-ruble state currency note is yellow. Across the middle is a green strip gradually merging with the general yellow color of the note.

On the face side are the coat of arms of the USSR in the upper left-hand corner, the letters "USSR" in Russian in a vignette in the upper right, the inscription "One Ruble" in Russian against the figure "1" in a counter in the center, four figures "1" in a fancy scroll along the bottom, and the figure "1" in a counter at the top of the blank space in the right-hand corner of the note.

Variety To Mark Show In Colorado

Several special features have been announced for the 10th annual convention of the Colorado-Wyoming Numismatic Association, set for September 29-October 1, at the Denver Hilton Hotel in Denver, according to H. E. Ryan of Cheyenne, Wyo., Association secretary.

Reduced rates for hotel accommodations have been arranged with the Hilton management, if the convention is mentioned with request for reservations. In addition, because the banquet will be omitted, and the auction, bourse and exhibits are all in separate rooms, the exhibits and bourse will be open continuously from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, closing 2:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Deadline for bourse table reservations has been set for September 15, and should be made with Ryan, at 3042 Snyder Avenue, Cheyenne. Fee is $20 per table with no restriction as to number of tables per dealer, as space is available for up to 200 tables if necessary.

The Denver Coin Club is host to the convention, with club president Earl Botzen serving as general chairman. For detailed information, he may be reached at 1776 South Ogden Street, Denver, Colo.

Ontario Club Plans Fall Celebration

Plans for a second anniversary celebration were made at the August meeting of the Bay of Quinte Coin Club, Trenton, Ontario.

"This celebration, which will be held in the late fall, will likely prove to be one of the highlights of the year for coin collectors in the area," commented Robert A. Holloway, club officer.

Holloway displayed a number of choice items from his Canadian quarter collection including 1875-VG, 1883-VF, 1911-BU, 1912-EF, and 1919-AU.

A lively discussion was held concerning asterisk notes, and F. Hoffman, club president, mentioned that he had the good fortune to pick up a $5 asterisk note out of circulation.

Next meeting for the Bay of Quinte Coin Club is scheduled for Tuesday, September 12 at No. 6 Repair Depot Social Centre, Trenton at 8 p.m.

Pontiac Club To Hold Annual Fall Show

The Pontiac, Mich., Coin Club has scheduled its Annual Fall Show for October 8 at the Roosevelt Temple, 22 State street, Pontiac.

Information regarding bourse table reservations may be obtained by writing to K. E. McLain at 280 Chandler avenue, Pontiac.

Fair To Fine . . .

I have written about the Sheldon scale before, but I think it is worth repeating, and I shall probably do it again in the future. What I have not mentioned, is that Dr. Sheldon tied up the scale with values. His condition 1 carried what he called a "basal value", with a Condition 12 coin being worth 12 times that basal value, and a Condition 50 coin being worth 50 times, etc., which is a tune worth trying out on your piccolo.

Returning once more to where I started, specific grading points, there are several which should be made clear. For "Very Good", it has long been established that at least three letters of the word "Liberty" should be clear, plus a full and clear rim, meaning a readily definable inner edge. One without the other is not good enough, both must be present, along with other characteristics, of course.

For a coin to grade "Fine", ALL the letters in Liberty must be not only clear but sharply so, unless the coin is a "weak strike", which should be stated in any description. Less than sharply clear would indicate the coin is a VG10 or VG11, maybe. Sheldon says about "Fine":

"All of the design and all of the inscriptions are sharp. Wear is appreciable only on the high surfaces. If examined with a magnifier, the microscopic detail is gone."

In other words, a "Fine" coin is a fine coin. Beyond that, I do not think it necessary to go, as the average collector will be satisfied with "Fine" if he can't afford AU or better, once he has

Frans Guest For Program

P. J. Frans of Holland, Mich., discussed the early history of coins up to the time of Christ, at a recent meeting of the Kalamazoo, Mich., Coin Collectors Society, held at Knapp's restaurant.

Frans also advised the club to join the Michigan State Numismatic Association.

Next meeting of the Kalamazoo club is scheduled for Tuesday, September 12, also at Knapp's restaurant, starting at 7:30 p.m.

gone beyond "Good." The differences in between are important mainly to the advanced collector, the specialist, or in connection with the extreme rarities in the field of coins.

Mr. McLemore's letter started me off on the subject of grading, but it does not take much, the drop of a hat or even of a Lincoln cent will do it. He had a few other things to say, also, including that he missed seeing me at the A.N.A. Convention, and that he wanted to talk about "Broken Nose" dimes.

As for the Convention, I avoid them because I always spend too much money at the bourse tables or the Auction. Even when I had a bourse table myself, I usually left the profits behind when I went home. On the dimes, he lists only seven missing from his set. I need 18 but have some he wants in my duplicates. We'll trade.

Roman Coin Copied

The silver penny of Alfred the Great's reign in Great Britain is similar to the Roman imperial coins.

Wabash Club Has Auction

The Wabash Valley Coin Club's, Terre Haute, Ind., August meeting was highlighted by a brisk auction as over 60 members and guests attended, reported Mrs. Betty Cass, club secretary.

Eugene Cass will give a talk on the Scope of Coin Collecting at the September 12 meeting to be held in the Terre Haute Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 p.m.

LOOKING FOR THAT CERTAIN COIN??

An excellent way to find it is to send me your want list, and let me price the ones you need in the grade you need them. Or you might like my approval service. If you can spend $10.00 or more a month on your collection, just send me a list of the coins you need, the grade, and the amount you'd like to spend a month. I'll send you a selection of which you keep the ones that please you, remit promptly, and in another month, you'll receive another selection.

These magnificent medallions are the first and second in a series of sculptured high relief pieces that will eventually include all of the presidents. See the full details on page 5 of this week's COIN WORLD. I am sorry if we had to return your check for silver medals in this series. We simply could not get enough medals to supply the tremendous demand. Enter your subscription with us for the entire issue. Simply make a note on your order for Kennedy and Lincoln medals that you want to subscribe, and you will be notified automatically as each new piece is issued. Coming soon—George Washington and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

THE BRONZE MEDALLION $2.50 each

GATLING GUN MEDAL

Commemorating the 100th Anniversary of the invention of the famed Gatling Gun, this medal is easily the finest example of medallion work available today. It bears a handsome portrait of the inventor, Richard Jordan Gatling on the obverse, and a finely sculptured model of the gun in action on the reverse. Price includes delivery in an attractive plastic case. The silver medals will be struck for delivery in early September.

Bronze $5.00

Silver $30.00

FIRST MANASSAS MEDAL

(Bull Run)

This fine high relief piece was struck in silver and bronze in conjunction with the re-enactment of the Battle of Manassas (Bull Run), one of the most famous battles of the Civil War. Executed by the famous Robbins Co., of Attleboro, Mass., this medal will be an outstanding addition to any Civil War set. Silver issue is limited to 2,000 serially numbered pieces, so order early to be sure of delivery.

Iowa Club Has Record Auction Sale

The Siouxland Coin Collectors Association held the most active auction of their history at the Sheraton-Martin Hotel in Sioux City, Iowa on August 8, reported John T. Alvey, club officer.

Seventy club members purchased over $1,100 worth of material submitted by their fellow members. Part of the auction was placed as a mail bid in a recent issue of Coin World, with the mail bid sale proving very popular, according to Alvey.

Key items in the sale included a 1927-S Liberty standing quarter, uncirculated, an 1885 Liberty nickel in very good condition, and a number of key Lincoln cents, including the 1909-S VDB.

Alvey added that the Siouxland club's annual convention is scheduled for October 6, 7, and 8 in Sioux City. Another big auction is promised and later announcements will be made of the mail bid section.

Further information on the convention may be obtained by contacting Alvey at 2401 Lakeport, Sioux City, Iowa.

Tri-County Club Plans For Fall Show

Plans will be discussed and committees appointed for the second Coin Show to be sponsored next November 19, at the September 10 meeting of the Tri-County Coin Club of St. Marys, Ohio at the Eagles Lodge in St. Marys, starting at 2 p.m.

The club's first show, held last spring, was so successful that it was decided to hold another in the fall but in a different location, the Union Hall, which will accommodate more spectators than the Eagles Lodge.

Also on the program for the September session will be an auction and special awards, with bourse tables available.

At the last meeting of the Tri-County club, James G. Johnson, associate editor of Coin World, spoke on "Coin Grading," which he described as one of the most important aspects of numismatics. He deplored the wide-spread growth of overgrading which he called "strictly dishonest."

Johnson also listed what he considered the three most important grades, "uncirculated," "fine" and "good," all others being better or worse than those, as being most in demand by the majority of collectors. He pointed out the main points of identification of those three conditions of a coin.

The meeting concluded with an auction, cried by Phil Engle of Uniopeia, Ohio, a professional auctioneer.

Woman Senator

The first woman United States senator was Mrs. Rebecca Felton of Cartersville, Ga., who took office in 1922.

Scenes From Recent Winter Haven Show

Scenes from the recent two-day Winter Haven, Fla., Coin Club show, held recently at the Haven Hotel, drew visitors from throughout Florida and the southeastern states. Top photo shows Sidney W. Smith of Miami, Fla., displaying one of the original Presidential Arts John F. Kennedy platinum medals, ninth to be struck, and for which Smith turned down $2,000; second photo is Lawrence May, Winter Haven American Legion state highway auxiliary patrolman, and one of the volunteers who guarded the exhibits at the show. Here he examines a collection owned by Claude Ray of Winter Haven, chiefly of gold and valued at $12,000. Bottom photo is Don Henry, a chairman of the show, as he awards a $55 diamond ring, the gift of Blanton's Jewelry Store in Winter Haven.

Schuylkill Club Moves To Indoors

After having held its last two meetings, July and August, out-of-doors in picnic fashion, the Schuylkill Stamp and Coin Club of Schuylkill Haven, Pa., is slated to return to its usual site for the September session, to be held in the Lions Ambulance building, River and St. John Streets, in Schuylkill Haven, on Tuesday, September 12, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The July and August sessions were new for the club this year, since in former years the group suspended operations during the summer.

Plans for the fall season will be discussed at the September meeting, according to the club's "permanent" secretary, A. T. Freeman of Pottsville. Among them are programs of slides borrowed from the American Numismatic Association.

Also planned is the compilation of two lists of dealers, to be circulated among the members, one list to contain names of dealers that gave good service, the other one of names of dealers with whom the members have had unpleasant experiences, according to Freeman.

The secretary has been described as "permanent" as he is the only secretary the club has had in the more than five years of its existence, having been re-elected each year.

Boy Scouts Form New Collector Group

Boy Scout Troop 58 of Sheffield, Ala., recently held a coin club organizational meeting at the home of Mike Franks with the following officers being elected:

Mike Franks, president; Toby Miller, vice president; David Prince, secretary-treasurer. According to the club's by-laws, all new members must belong to troop 58.

MENTION "COIN WORLD" IN ANSWERING ANY AD!

Trends Of Today's Canadian Coin Values

What Trends Figures Should Mean

By J. E. Charlton
30 Richmond St., East
Toronto 1, Ont., Canada

A Coin World subscriber wants to know what dealer or dealers will pay the prices listed in this column for Canadian coins.

This is a perennial question and deserves a full answer right now so this column will be completely understood by all.

First of all, let us point out that the values given in this column indicate the prices that collectors, not dealers, are willing to pay for coins. These are values and week to week trends of values and should be used in this manner.

Our experience has been that most dealers in Canadian coins will pay approximately two-thirds of these indicated values for the coins they require.

Of course, it must be kept in mind that a coin dealer is in much the same position as a store keeper...he is mainly interested in purchasing numismatic material which is required by his customers.

If he becomes overstocked on certain coins, he may decline offers of such coins or make an offer with a small premium. On the other hand, if the demand for this material warrants it, higher prices may be paid by the same dealer.

As a general rule, the material that most coin dealers require has a listed value of $3 or more in the lowest grade. A portion of this listed value includes a handling charge as, naturally, the dealer can not buy and sell at the same price and stay in business.

A dozen or more dealers in Canadian coins have advertisements in this weekly coin newspaper and would be interested in scarce and good condition Canadian material.

Next week I will report in some detail on the results of the Canadian Numismatic Association convention held at Hamilton, Ontario, this past week.

I have the privilege of handling the combined mail bid sale and floor auction for the C.N.A. sessions and believe that many new records on values will be established. The volume of mail bids already received far exceeded any previous sale!

Club Emblem From Dollar

The Carthage, Mo., Coin Club has accepted a club emblem adapted from the design of a Morgan silver dollar, reported Mrs. Hal McKelvey, secretary treasurer.

The emblem was executed by Richard Rhine, a club member who is a professional artist.

Carthage club's September 12 meeting, scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Y.M.C.A. will be concerned

Michigan Club Cancels Fall Show

The fall coin show sponsored by the Rochester, Mich., Coin Club, originally scheduled for September 17, has been cancelled, according to L. W. Grabhorn, club secretary.

"We were unable to get a building," said Grabhorn, who added the next show the club will sponsor will be in the spring.

primarily with adding new members.

Indiana Coin Collectors Form Group

Collectors in the North Manchester, Ind., area who met recently to discuss forming a coin club are now fully organized and have set their next meeting for 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, September 13, to be held in Werking's Grill in North Manchester, under the name of the North Manchester Coin Club.

Dues have been set at $2.50 per year for adult members, and $1 a year for juniors under 16 years of age.

At the last session, Charles Vanyo, Laketon, was chosen president. Other officers include Robert Short, Wabash, vice president; Mrs. Fred Thompson, Laketon, secretary, and Orville Baker, North Manchester, treasurer.

To the board of directors were elected Roland Schmiedel, North Manchester; David Yeatter, North Manchester, and Maurice Agnew, Wabash. Kenneth Eppley, Baker, and Charles Johnson were named to a committee to make recommendations on charging dealers for bourse space at meetings.

Auction Highlight Of Stamford Meeting

An auction is expected to be the feature of the next meeting of the Stamford, Conn., Coin Club, set for Wednesday, September 13, at the Eagles Club, 688 Main Street in Stamford, starting at 8 p.m., according to Grace N. Brandt, secretary.

At the last session, L. P. Leonard of Cos Cob, Conn., exhibited Connecticut Colonial currency, and discussed his display.

BEST NEWS IN YEARS FOR COIN COLLECTORS

Toivo Johnson takes a great deal of pleasure in bringing to his coin friends, the first beautiful medal in the COIN MEDALS series.

The Official AUGUSTUS SAINT-GAUDENS COMMEMORATIVE MEDAL

While this medal will be ready for delivery in a few days, we do not as yet have pictures of it for publication. But we will do the best we can by word description.

The idea or theme of COIN MEDALS, is to commemorate great coin designers, the men who made the coins we collect. Other medals to follow, equally as beautiful as the Saint-Gaudens now offered, will commemorate Barber, Morgan, Brenner, and other names familiar to all collectors.

Each medal will depict on the obverse, the finest work of the coin designer. The reverse will have data pertinent to his life and work. Of course, these famous designers did nice work in coins, but in medallics they could really give free rein to their imagination and ability. In a coin, the sculptor or designer is hampered by the small area of the coin, by the lettering and mottoes he is required to fit into the small area, and by the low relief, as the coins have to stack.

The Official Augustus Saint-Gaudens Medal is issued with the approval of the Trustees of The Saint-Gaudens Memorial in Cornish, New Hampshire. Two of the bronze medals, and the Number 1 and Number 2 of the serially numbered silver medals, will be put on permanent display in the Memorial Museum. These will be seen by thousands of visitors each year.

Now, to describe the Augustus Saint-Gaudens Medal,

OBVERSE: One of the finest medallic works of Saint-Gaudens, done by him in 1892, perhaps at the height of his career, for the Worlds Columbian Exposition. This medal is a private award medal, and as such, is very rare. It is Saint-Gaudens magnificent interpretation of the Discovery of America, showing Columbus stepping on the soil of the New World. Columbus' arms are outstretched, in humble gratitude to the Creator, for making his long voyage successful. A plaster cast of this Columbus is on display in the Memorial.

REVERSE: A depiction of Saint-Gaudens beautiful home and studio "Aspet", in Cornish, New Hampshire, where he lived, worked, and died in 1907. In the sky over the house, like a setting sun, is shown his famous Roman date Double Eagle, acknowledged the most beautiful American coin. This is truly an artistic presentation, as the sun did set on the famous sculptor's career the same year he designed the coin.

The Saint-Gaudens medal is being struck by The Metal Arts Company of Rochester, New York, master craftsmen in bronze and other metals. Any town, city, coin club, etc. desiring to commemorate some event with anything from a token to the finest medal, will do well to contact this company.

The Saint-Gaudens medal will be of 3 inch diameter, as all COIN MEDALS to follow. It weighs about 7½ ounces in bronze, and the .999 pure silver medal, being of the same thickness, weighs over 8 ounces. The silver medals will be serially numbered on the edge, and the issue will be limited to not over 5000. This is only one-half the number of Hawaii Half Dollars minted, and with the wide-spread interest COIN MEDALS will have, I can sincerely predict the Saint-Gaudens silver medal will be more difficult to obtain in a few years than the coin mentioned.

You can order now, for delivery in a few days.

The bronze medal is $5.50, or two for $10.00.

With appropriate holders and stands to be available later, two medals will afford a simultaneous view of the obverse and reverse.

Introductory price on the silver medal is a comparatively low $27.50

So we suggest you order now, as it has been proven that the first silver medals in a series are the most difficult to obtain later. Silver medal orders will receive acknowledgement of the order, with indication of the serial number of your medal.

SCULPTOR'S MODEL OF SAINT-GAUDENS MEDAL

Before pictures of the Augustus Saint-Gaudens medal are published, it might be of interest to many Coin World readers to see a medal in the making.

Illustrated above is the reverse model of the Saint-Gaudens medal, greatly reduced in size, as the actual model is larger than this page of Coin World! This model, as well as the die work, was done by Mr. Robert Schabel, recently arrived from Germany, with an extensive background of medallic work there. Saint-Gaudens, Victor Brenner, and countless other gifted people, have come from Europe to achieve fame in their chosen work in America.

The lettering, stars, and other fine detail, which this model does not show, are engraved into the die. In the model, you see a really rare Double Eagle, with no date or stars!

Other medals in the COIN MEDALS series, will all depict in the center of the reverse, the design for which the coinmaker is best known to coin collectors. Thus, the Brenner medal will have Lincoln's bust, as originally designed in 1909.

Orders for the Saint-Gaudens medal are filled in strict sequence, there may be a few days delay while prior orders are being shipped.

Empire State Fall Session Will Be Held In Syracuse

The Empire State Numismatic Association will hold its 23rd semi-annual convention (fall session) at the Sheraton-Syracuse Inn, Exit No. 35, NYS Thruway, Thompson Road at Court St., Syracuse, N.Y., September 29, 30 and October 1. The convention will start on Friday at 1 p.m. and close on Sunday at 3 p.m.

A Ladies' tour is planned for Saturday at 2 p.m. and will include a trip to the Salt Museum which shows the industry that gave Syracuse its early nickname of the "Salt City."

This, said Paul C. Livingston, of Syracuse, president of E.S.N.A., and also president of the Syracuse Numismatic Association, will be one of the highlights of the convention for the ladies taking the tour.

The banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. Saturday and Edward A. Park, general chairman of the convention, said that it will be limited and those wishing tickets should get them early.

Awards plaques will be made at the banquet for the best in five classes: U. S. coins, paper currency, ancient coins, foreign coins, medals and tokens. Those who display in the convention must be members of E.S.N.A. Mr. Park emphasized cases for exhibits should be reserved through him in advance.

A special award is being donated by the Syracuse club for "best in show." This award trophy is being given in honor of the late Charles W. Foster who was one of the outstanding promoters of numismatics in New York State and also one of the leading founders of the organization 11 years ago. Livingston said that the trophy is being given to the best in show as a memorial to Foster. It can be won by anyone who has a display.

E.S.N.A. has a rule—exhibitors cannot win more than twice with the same material. Thus an award like this will allow the ones who have won before to display again and have an opportunity to compete with some of their outstanding material, officials explained.

Sheldon Moses, owner of the Sheldon Coin Shop, Herkimer, N. Y., will hold the E.S.N.A. auction during the convention.

Two sessions are planned for Friday at 7 p.m. and Saturday at 1 p.m. Both sessions are to be held in the Turf Room at the Sheraton-Syracuse Inn.

Moses, who has had five past successful national mail bid and floor auctions at shows and conventions, will hold his sixth one. He will be having a full listing of about 900 lots in the Coin World, described by Empire State officials as the leading newspaper of collectors in this country. But those who want advance catalogs of the auction may have them by writing to Moses care of the Sheldon Coin Shop, 115 N. Main St., Herkimer, N. Y.

A rare pattern, transitional cent

Sheldon Moses, owner of the Sheldon Coin Shop, Herkimer, N. Y., who will preside at the Empire States Numismatic Association fall session convention auction.

Paul C. Livingston, Syracuse, N. Y., president of the Empire State Numismatic Association, and of the Syracuse Numismatic Association.

of 1856 with only 13 known will be among some of the leading material in the lots. Also patterns (cents of 1858, 1859 and 1863.)

Listed is a rare double struck Fugio cent in AU condition, Wilson dollars, both in silver and bronze, an 1894-O and 1896-O 25-cent pieces in uncirculated condition, a rare pattern half dime of 1797, complete sets of Castorland proofs in gold, silver and bronze, complete sets of large cents, Indian head cents, and Lincoln cents, along with many other collectable items, including Civil War tokens.....

Outstanding in the field of patterns, will be choice material of the Major Lenox R. Lohr of Chicago, collections. At least 12 patterns from this collection will be offered, which will include the 1856 Bronze Proof Cent No. 207. Moses has done very well in the field of auctions with a record high at his auction in Saratoga, N. Y. this past year. It will be his first with the E.S.N.A. and promises to be one of the highlights of the convention.

Livingston says that about 30 tables have been taken by dealers and there are very few bourse tables left. The Inn was used for the first time by the Syracuse club for E.S.N.A. last year and was very successful and the home type atmosphere was a leading factor with excellent food, good rooms, free parking, pleasant dining rooms, and easy-to-get-to facilities. Those wishing rooms are urged to write now to either the Sheraton-Syracuse Inn or Edward A. Park, P. O. 1393 Syracuse, N. Y.

Gold Coins Shown At Illinois Meeting

Harold Zenor displayed his remarkable collection of U. S. gold coins at the recent meeting of the Ottawa, Ill., Coin Club.

Zenor exhibited a complete gold type set (except for the $4 Stella), and an 1883 proof $1 gold from the King Farouk collection.

Nickel Issue

Good In Trade At Any Cooperative Business Redeemable At Face Value At Any COOPERATING BANK or at CELEBRATION HEADQUARTERS on or before Aug. 25, 1961

Wooden nickels for the Staten Island, N. Y., Tercentenary celebration (January 1-December 31, 1961) are available in lots of 10 for $1 to cover cost of handling from Staten Island Tercentenary, Inc., 2 Van Duzer Street, P. O. Box 300, Staten Island, 1, New York. Later a half dollar bronze medallion coin will be issued, according to Joseph T. Newlin, executive director. The celebration commemorates the 300th anniversary of the first permanent settlement of Long Island.

Sheboygan Club Busy

Tuesday, August 29, was a significant date for the Sheboygan, Wis., Coin Club, which meets in the Grand Hotel every other Tuesday during the year, starting at 7:30 p.m.

That date marked the second and last time in 1961 that the club's bi-weekly meeting schedule gave it three sessions in the same month. The other month in which this occurred was last January, and it will not happen again this year.

Whether any special program is arranged for such third meetings has not been announced, such as the "Fifth Saturday night" auctions put on by the Piedmont Numismatic Society of Newton, N. C., in any month which has a fifth Saturday.

Members of the Sheboygan club held a picnic recently, featuring Sheboygan Bratwurst and a penny hunt in sawdust for the children, according to a club report.

Club Plans Annual Show

Coins With Special Significance, 500 B. C. to 1893, was the theme of the East Bay Coin Club's, Oakland, Calif., August meeting, reported R. J. Frost, secretary.

American Numismatic Association slides were shown as part of the program.

Final plans are being made for the East Bay club's Ninth Annual Coinival to be held on October 29 at the Lakeside Park Garden Center on the shores of Lake Merritt, Oakland.

Frost is chairman of this event, and he is being assisted by Don Crosman, Roy Hill, F. J. Montague, Charles Bigelow, Sidney Gilligan, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert East.

Auctions and exhibits will be featured at the Coinival. George Squires has been named as auctioneer.

Ohio Coin Show Draws 1,000

Over 1,000 persons attended the Central Ohio Coin Club's, Newark, Ohio, show held at Buckeye Lake Park, reported Charles E. Keinath, show chairman.

"A number of dealers were so much pleased with the activity at their bourse tables," added Keinath, "that they offered checks for reservations for next year's show."

Several outstanding displays were featured at the show, including Frank W. Spencer's Sr.'s U.S. and foreign paper money; Herman and Betty Rech, general gold and U. S. coins; Wendell Morin, 300 different wooden nickels; and Robert Strong, German World War II medals and insignias.

Don Devore, a Columbus, Ohio coin dealer, performed his unusual magic act that capped off the entire program.

Essex County Coin Club Banquet

Santa Cruz Club Donates

At its recent meeting the Santa Cruz, Calif., Coin Club voted to have a two-year subscription of Coin World donated to the Santa Cruz public library, reported Elvin V. Huckins, club secretary.

Eldon Lawrence exhibited his fine collection of Lincoln cents and received an award for having the best display of the evening.

Portville Club Membership Climbs

The Portville, N. Y., Coin Club has reached a total of 42 members, with the acceptance of nine new applications at a recent meeting, held in the Portville Firemen's clubhouse.

The Portville club meets on the third Wednesday of the month, starting at 7:30 p.m. Interested collectors are invited to contact Mrs. Deforest Chaffee, Portville.

Coin Show For Virginia Club

"Paving the Road to a Successful Coin Show" was the theme of the Martinsville, Va., Coin Club's August meeting held at the Martinsville Recreation Center, reported Mrs. Charles May, secretary.

The program consisted of completing plans for the club's first coin show scheduled for October 7 at the Martinsville Recreation Center.

Show activities will feature a bourse section, a general competitive display and a junior display. Special prizes will be awarded and food will be served at the show.

Bergen County Show

Need For Study On Dimes Revealed By Much Interest

C. N. Hawley, Centerville, Ind., writes: "Re your comments on Micro 1959-D Roosevelt, I found a 1947-S with microscopic 'S' only last week. It takes a good magnifier to see it clearly. Have you had any reports on this one?"

ANSWER: Not that we recall, but it is likely now that you have broken the ice. Somebody should study both Mercury and Roosevelt dimes and come up with a good report so collectors who are interested in such things will know what to look for.

The "old timers" will shake their heads at that, but even minor differences are worth knowing about just to increase the scope of our numismatic knowledge. There is nothing wrong in collecting them, either, but let us not talk about values for awhile. Let the "fast-buck" boys do their own studying, and really earn their "bucks", by contributing as well as taking.

John Sylvaart, Dalton, Nebr., reports on finding a 1944-S dime double struck on all four date numerals and some letters in Liberty. He also asks the present whereabouts of a certain dealer who "look" him, and wonders how many other people also were "taken".

ANSWER: On the dime, are you sure it is a double strike and not re-engraved or "recut"? A double struck coin should show the evidence in more spots than you mention, as a coin could not be hit twice only in those specific places. Check further.

As for the dealer you mention, we had plenty of complaints and we no longer accept his advertising, which now appears in another numismatic publication. Did you do anything about your "loss"?

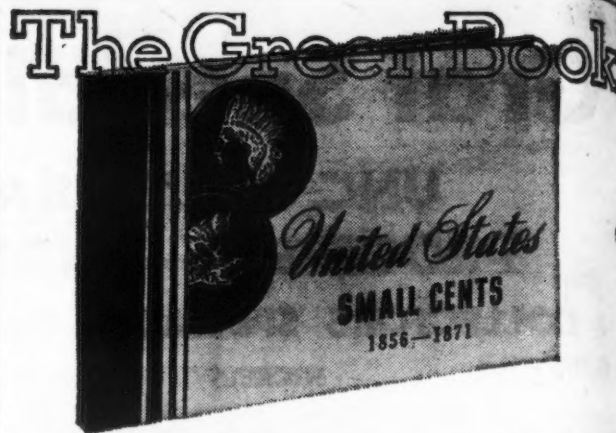

That dealer is now being investigated by postal authorities, and if you have not reported to the postal authorities you should. This is a good time to suggest to any collector what he should do if he feels that he has been defrauded.

First, BE SURE. Give the dealer at least 30 days leeway to provide satisfaction or answer your letters which should be cordial at first, and be sure to send them by certified mail with receipt requested. Enclose a postcard, so that all he has to do is write something down quick and mail it. If he doesn't do that, the dealer probably deserves whatever he gets.

Discuss your problem with an experienced collector, not just a friend, (fraud is a serious charge) just to make sure that he agrees that you have been defrauded.

Incidentally, we know of one case where a dealer shipped some coins by Railway Express but did not notify the collector. The collector got impatient after several weeks, and started "raising Cain", with no replies from the dealer.

Six weeks after the order, he got his coins. They had been sitting in the Railway Express vaults in his own community all that time, while the "vault keeper" was on vacation! The collector had never been notified they were there. There was no fraud, just carelessness on the part of both (Continued on Page 28)

Canadian Specialist Shows Nation's New Look Currency

"A possible new look in paper currency" was unveiled before the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society at its July meeting. Speaking in San Francisco, Montreal numismatist Harold Don Allen displayed the "Improved Reversible Paper Money" which a Quebec Province pharmacist has been petitioning the Bank of Canada to adopt.

Allen said that he had become interested in the project of Hull, Quebec drug store owner Rene Laflamme when he encountered a Canadian Press dispatch describing the "new look" money which Laflamme had been handing out to members of parliament and other influential Canadians.

The "reversible currency", an adaptation of the Bank of Canada design which presents essentially the same appearance back or front, right-side-up or upside-down was copyrighted by Laflamme as an unpublished work of art, and 4,500 specimens were run off, on four shades of tinted security paper.

Allen told the San Francisco group, during an address on the development of monetary forms, that Laflamme's invention was being viewed at a numismatic meeting for the first time, but that the pharmacist had received some 2,500 letters requesting specimens of his work.

He said that he was "not at all certain that Canada's conservative central bank" would "go along with the plan", but that the notes, at any rate, would be of distinct collector interest in years to come. Free samples could be obtained (for an addressed, stamped envelope), the group was informed, by writing Laflamme at 44 Eddy Street, Hull, Quebec, Canada.

Muncie Club Will Install

Installation of officers elected at the August meeting will feature the September session of the Muncie, Ind., Stamp and Coin Club, set for Monday, September 11, at the club rooms of the Y.W.C.A., East Charles Street and South Jefferson, starting at 7:30 p.m. Familiar faces will predominate, as the only new officer who did not serve last year is the vice president, William Irwin. Chosen president was George McKnight, 1961 vice president, who replaces Darrel Miller in that post.

Other officers were all re-elected, including Paul Robinson as secretary; Mrs. Mary Alice Talbert, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Mildred Fager, treasurer.

At the August meeting, a year's free membership was given to Leon Elliott in recognition for his having served the club as auctioneer.

Numismatic Depth Study

Educate Yourself In All Phases With Set Of Books

By Q. David Bowers

As the editor of this publication has repeatedly advocated, numismatists should avail themselves of every possible opportunity to study and learn about coins. Someone once recommended that for every $10 spent on coins, a numismatist should spend $1 on reference books.....until a basic reference library is assembled.

Q. David Bower

It is pitifully amazing to note how many collectors have only one book in their libraries: "The Guide Book of U. S. Coins." While the Guide Book is the basic foundation of United States coin prices, it is not the only book you should have.

We know of a recent instance in which a collector spent over $5,000 for large cents, but did not have a single reference book on that series! Later he discovered (someone told him) that his 1799 was an altered date. The dealer in question refused to refund the purchase price, and a very unpleasant situation was created.

If you are at all serious about numismatics, we would recommend the study of the following list of basic reference books. They are the keystone to a diversified, and balanced knowledge of American numismatics.

Prices given are approximations and may vary from dealer to dealer, particularly for the out-of-print references.

"Early Coins of America," published in 1875. Sylvester S. Crosby. The book which Sydney P. Noe called "the rock-like foundation for any study of the early coinage of our country." Reprint edition available for $20 to $30.

If you develop a specialized interest in American colonial and state coins you will want to add the fine references by Eric P. Newman, Sydney P. Noe, Richard D. Kenney and others.

"The United States Half Cents," by Ebenezer Gilbert, 1916. A specialized classification of half cents by die varieties. Six photographic plates. Copies are rare. $35 to $75.

Walter H. Breen has completed a manuscript on the half cent series which will obsolete the Gilbert reference. It is hoped that it will be published within the next year or so.

"Penny Whimsy," by Dr. William H. Sheldon, Mrs. Dorothy I. Paschal and Walter H. Breen. An excellent exhaustive reference covering United States large cents from 1793 to 1814. The introductory chapters set a fine standard that is equalled by few other reference books. $12.50.

"U. S. Copper Cents 1816 to 1857" by Howard R. Newcomb.

A specialized listing of die varieties of later date large cents. Reprint available for about $10.00.

"U. S. Half Dimes," by D. W. Valentine, 1931, to which a 1958 supplement by Walter H. Breen may be added. The standard reference on the half dime series. Copies of Valentine are becoming scarce and sell for $7.50 to $15.

"Early Quarter Dollars of the U.S.," by A. W. Browning, 1925. A specialized reference covering the series from 1796 to 1838. Eight excellent photographic plates. One of the rarest books in this list. Copies have sold for as much as $75.00.

"A Register of Half Dollar Die Varieties and Sub-Varieties," by M. L. Beistle, 1929. A description of half dollars from 1794 to 1928. This book is most useful for the specialized varieties 1794 to 1807 as the descriptions are often ambiguous after that date.

Various editions were published. The paper cover edition without plates is available for $7.50 to $10.

"The U.S. Early Silver Dollars from 1794 to 1803," by M. H. Bolender, 1950. A specialized listing of die varieties. About $17.50 to $20.00.

"Private Gold Coinage of California," by Edgar H. Adams, 1911 and 1912. An excellent reference complete with the historical background of the various gold coins. Available in several different editions for $35 to $50.

"U. S. Pattern, Experimental and Trial Pieces," by Dr. J. Hewitt Judd, 1958. Essentially an updating and re-arranging of the earlier Adams-Woodin pattern reference. The prices in it and its supplement are mostly obsolete as many patterns have been bought and sold for considerably higher prices. $10.

"Hard Times Tokens," by Lyman H. Low, 1900. Covers in fascinating detail the 1833-1844 issues. Reprint with price guide and plates available at $10.

"Paper Money of the United States," by Robert Friedberg. The current edition features complete information on large and small size currency, encased postage (Continued on Page 27) stamps and fractional currency. $12.50.

To the above listing may be added many other worthwhile monographs including the Whitman Publishing Company's series "Alaska's Conage Through the Years," "Hawaiian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money," "Patriotic Civil War Tokens," etc.

Back issues of "The Numismatist," the official publication of the American Numismatic Association, contain many worthwhile articles on practically every subject under the numismatic sun. Many important monographs on tokens, currency, half cents, Bryan money, medals, etc. have appeared in this publication in serial form.

Anyone with a scholarly interest in numismatics will find the various coins offered for sale, advertisements of the original commemorative half dollar issuing commissions, reports of new discoveries, etc. to be of interest.

Back issues of the "Numismatic Scrapbook Magazine" are likewise of interest. Publisher Lee Hewitt endeavored to include articles containing original information with each issue.

"This coin ad says it's the hottest sale they've had in years!"

We have been assiduously saving each issue of the Coin World since its advent over a year ago. The pile has grown to formidable size. In years to come the Coin World issues will provide a valuable insight into price trends, fads (such as the current interest in medals) and the general numismatic topics of the times.

Valuable for bits of numismatic knowledge are past auction catalogs. While some are merely colorless listings, others provide much information as to the rarity and history of the coins in question.

The "name" auction catalogs published by The Numismatic Gallery, Stack's, B. Max Mehl, James Kelly, Abner Kreisberg, New Netherlands Coin Co., Inc. (these are particularly authoritative), A. Kosoff, Wayne Raymond, H. and S. H. Chapman, W. E. Woodward, Thomas Elder, and many others are worth acquiring.

In some instances these catalogs are available from the issuers. We especially recommend obtaining a list of prices realized with each catalog.

Among others, the following have an inventory of numismatic publications, including the scarcer catalogs and references: Beebe's, 4514 North 30th Street, Omaha 11, Nebraska; John J. Ford, Jr., 176 Hendrickson Avenue, Rockville Centre, New York; and Frank J. Katen, 1444 Primrose Rd., N. W., Washington 12, D. C.

The American Numismatic Society, located at 155th St. and Broadway in New York City, has a listing of references for sale, including the valuable back issues of the American Journal of Numismatics.

the Railway Express and the dealer who was too busy to write. The dealer knew the coins had been shipped and figured they would be delivered "any day now", so "why take the time to answer the irate letters?" It was poor public relations on the dealer's part but no fraud was involved. So don't go off "half cocked"!

Once you are certain there is fraud, make a complaint fast to the postal inspector in the area where the dealer does his business, writing to the postmaster in the town where he advertises from. The postal authorities must investigate, and they will be thorough, but slow.

Postal authorities also have to be SURE, and it takes time to get evidence that will stand up, in court or elsewhere. But they must check on every complaint they receive.

There are two sides, at least, to this matter, as witness the delayed express shipment mentioned above. If you receive coins, you must make a decision to keep or return them within 10 days or sooner. The dealer has a right to consider the transaction complete after 10 days, and any order returned after that might just be ignored for months, without any element of fraud.

Finally, don't complain to the Better Business Bureau, the F.B.I., or the local police. Go direct to postal authorities, who are the only ones responsible for fraud by mail. And don't hesitate to fill out forms which they will send you, and we advise that you keep some records of dates and amounts, because you will have to be specific. But first, BE PATIENT, and BE SURE!

Dave Hoyer, New Castle, Pa., writes about an unusual experience he had with rolls of circulated cents from a local bank. In four rolls he found: one VG 1913-S, some 35 1919-P, about 15 1920-P, one good 1880 Indian, about five each 1911, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, and many "S" cents. The rolls had not been around long, as each had some 1961 coins in it, including a 1961-P with a hole in the head and a blob "e", in brilliant uncirculated.

COMMENT: We definitely agree with the adjective "unusual". Lots of luck involved, but we could easily believe that shortly before, somebody had emptied the "piggy bank" and turned in the contents, with much of it being rolled at the same time.

Ken Gurney of Cherry Valley, N. Y., reports 1942-S half dollars with large and small "S".

COMMENT: Maybe we will find out that the same die punches were used on all denominations during the early 1940's in San Francisco. That would be a logical explanation for the different sized Mint marks that are being reported. Look some more, and compare the Mint letters with each other for shape, serifs, and so on, on different types and years.

Kenneth Teplin of Chicago asks why the Mint doesn't use a clearer substance for the proof set plastic. He says "Our proof coins are beautiful. As long as the idea is to keep them Mint sealed, why not let their beauty show through?"

COMMENT: Purpose of the plastic is protection, and the thicker the material, the more protection, other things being equal. Polyethylene is less transparent than cellophane, for example, and is safe, which cellophane is not. The people who talk about Mint sealed proof sets are not thinking about display but about investment, which is a horse of a different material.

However, unless they put those Mint-sealed proof sets into a safe material, they may find their investment has diminished in value over a period of years, instead of increased.

Quite a bit has been written on that subject by a chemist, Dr. F. S. Epps, Homer, Mich., who is also secretary of the Central States Numismatic Association, and who has done extensive chemical research on the matter of safe storage of nice coins. If anybody is interested we suggest writing Dr. Epps who needs no street address, enclosing a stamped envelope for reply.

ALL THE ABOVE ARE THE PRICES THAT I WILL PAY for the conditions and dates described. SEND WITH THE UTMOST CONFIDENCE.

I WILL ALSO BUY other rarities, Key-dates and semi-key-dates not mentioned above. In this case, PRICE YOUR COINS TO ME in your first letter. In all deals no deal will be consummated until BOTH parties are thoroughly and mutually satisfied.

CERTIFIED CHECK WILL BE AIR-MAILED SAME DAY YOUR COINS ARE RECEIVED!! I am as close to you as your nearest Postal Box or Post Office. Sorry, no home or office visits. All my stock and cash is kept in bank vaults. I have been in the coin business nearly twenty years and, with God willing, hope to be another twenty years or more. I could not stay in business this length of time if I didn't buy, sell or trade honestly and conscientiously. I am a firm believer of the Golden Rule: "DO UNTO OTHERS AS YOU WOULD HAVE OTHERS DO UNTO YOU."

MIRACLE OF SCIENCE FOR CLEANING AND PRESERVING COINS

From the laboratories of the GENERAL ELECTRIC CO. came the miracle of SILICONE.

Science has taken a hand in cleaning and preserving coins with PRESERVA-COIN silicone cloths. A non-woven pure rayon cloth impregnated with silicone. No more wet and dry chemical solutions that may tend to set up a harmful chemical action.

Here at last is the answer to the question, "shall I clean my coins and how shall I do it?"

It's simple and it's fast via the PRESERVA-COIN way. Only several strokes needed. The first few strokes clean your coin only to the degree that they should be cleaned, no more. The last few strokes spread an invisible film of modern magic particles that protect the coin and yet show up its rich luster. Use PRESERVA-COIN on old or on new coins, circulated and uncirculated, for lasting beauty.

We firmly believe that in the future all coins sold in the numismatic field will carry the wording "PRESERVA-COIN treated".

Don't take our word for it, consult a qualified metallurgist. Show him this ad and ask him to explain why liquid chemical contact with coins is a dangerous procedure and why silicone is positively the finest cleaning preservation for copper, silver and gold coins.

PRESERVA-COIN cloths are soft and free from impurities. The PRESERVA-COIN method of cleaning and preserving is widely used by large scale manufacturers and observatories. Enough said for its scratch-proof qualities!

BE FIRST TO KNOW.

A new copyrighted chart that is unique in the numismatic field. Shows rank of Lincoln Cents by mintage, price, year and trend. A valuable, ready reference guide for the numismatist. Features certain coins and their possible upswing in price.

A most interesting item shows a common date Lincoln Cent that has been dormant for a long time. The author predicts and tells why the price of this coin should skyrocket 500% within the next 12 months.

If you have a quantity of this particular date Lincoln Cent, this information may be of genuine importance to you.

Written and researched by a professional numismatist and a financial and mathematical expert.

Pacific Northwest Group To Receive New Quarterly

A new numismatic publication, the Pacific Northwest Numismatic Association News, a quarterly for members of that group, appeared in Volume one, Number one, for its July-August, 1961, edition.

Members of the P.N.N.A. and associate clubs of the organization will receive the new magazine which will carry news of club activities, photographs, writings of prominent numismatists and all the details of P.N.N.A. official business.

Jack P. Koch, Box 802, Moses Lake, Wash., president of the P.N.N.A., said advertising was not accepted for the first issue, but will be welcomed in future issues.

Correspondence relating to advertising is to be addressed to Al Watts, 742 Wayne Drive, N., Salem, Oregon.

Koch, in announcing the new P.N.N.A. News, also said the official board has been increased to six members, and the area has been divided into districts for board member visitation and consultation.

These include Puget Sound, Byron Johnson, Seattle; southwest Washington and northwest Oregon, Richard Van Pelt, Salem, Oregon; southern Oregon, Maurice Miller, Klamath Falls, Oregon; Inland Empire, Mrs. Robert V. Alexander, Spokane; Palouse and southeast Washington, Ray E. Small Jr., Walla Walla, Wash.; southwest Canada and Alaska, Leslie D. Capan, Vancouver, B. C., Canada.

Camden Club Set For Coin Field Day

The first annual Coin Field Day of the Camden, S. C., Coin Club is scheduled for September 16 at the Home Demonstration Building on DeKalb street, Camden.

Doors will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. at this gala show which will feature exhibits, auctions, bourse tables, and special prizes.

Bailey Fall, Bob Pruett, and Loran Ross, Camden Coin Club officers, have traveled over three states, South and North Carolina, and Georgia in order to issue invitations to coin clubs and individual collectors.

Over 500 members are expected to attend the Field Day, commented Loran Ross, who is general chairman of the event.

J. C. Edwards is in charge of the bourse, while Ward Jacobs and Joey Gaskin are planning the junior events.

Coin-o-rama To Be Coast Event

West Valley Coin Club will hold its third annual Coin-o-rama Sunday, September 24, at the Reseda Woman's Club, 7901 Lindley Ave., Reseda, Calif., from 9:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

There will be bourse dealers, exhibits, special prizes and food. A 24-inch "Numi" trophy will be awarded for the best of show. There are 10 exhibit classifications and a first and second award will be given to each. Classification numbers will go to any professional group, dealers, wholesalers, anyone engaged in the business of numismatics. An invitation is extended to all persons wishing to display to contact Clay Read, exhibit chairman, 11115 Allegheny St., Sun Valley, Calif., no later than September 14. There is a limit of two cases per person.

There will be an auction, conducted by George Bennett. All material will be proof, gold, un-circulated, scarce or rare items graded fine or better. There will be mail or book bids. A limit of five lots to non-members of the West Valley and 10 lots to members will be imposed. Those wishing to place material for auction may contact E. C. Borgolte, auction chairman, 6357 Colbath Ave., Van Nuys, Calif.

Planning the September 24 Coin-o-rama to be held in the Reseda, Calif., Woman's Club are officers of the West Valley Coin Club (top photo). Left to right are Warren Overlin, president; Gregg Overlin, junior secretary; Peggy Ellen Borgolte, secretary; Charles Eads, treasurer; Elden Stephens, board of governors. Leonel C. Panosh faces in the foreground. Bottom photo, left to right, are Panosh, Harold Donald, George Burnett and Amelia Ash.

Among the many special prizes given will be 10 $5 gold pieces and a 1950 proof set mounted in plastic. There will also be a registration prize. Registration is free; however, those wishing to contribute 50 cents will receive a guest ribbon, three wooden nickels a '59, '60 and '61, all from West Valley's three Coin-o-ramas.

Each nickel is worth 10 cents in trade, and a free registration ticket for the special prizes.

Food will be served all day, prepared and served by members of the West Valley Coin Club. Everyone is invited and there is plenty of parking space available, according to Peggy E. Borgolte, secretary of the club.

Texas Center Makes Change

Transfer of the San Antonio Stamp and Coin Center to a large modern building in the heart of San Antonio, one block from the Alamo, at 214 E. Commerce Street, has been announced by Stanley Rupert, head of the firm.

Rupert said he would be able to serve his customers from over 1,500 square feet of retail store area and two floors (2,500 square feet) of office and storage area.

Proposed use of the large second floor will be to hold the bi-weekly stamp and coin club meetings and monthly coin auctions.

Kentuckians To Meet

The Columbia, Ky., Coin Club is scheduled to hold its next meeting on Friday, September 8, at the Meadow Hill Inn in Columbia, starting at 7 p.m.

New Club In Sandusky, Ohio

The newly formed Vacationland Coin Club of Sandusky, Ohio is placing a great deal of emphasis on junior membership, announced Charles H. Lewis, publicity chairman.

Charter memberships are still open and collectors of all ages are welcome.

Meetings are scheduled for the first Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m. at the new Armory on the corner of Columbus and Wood-lawn avenues, Sandusky.

The September 6 meeting was to have featured a discussion of "Oddities and Freaks Among Modern U. S. Coins," a coin auction and several bourse tables.

German Coins Subject At Panhandle Club

Bill Schlickbernd spoke on and displayed his collection of German coins at the recent meeting of the Panhandle Coin Club of Chadron, Nebr.

Schlickbernd explained the historical backgrounds of many coins of the old German states, and also discussed the more recent German commemorative and gold coins.

Wally Peckham Opens Coin, Stamp Shop

Wally Peckham is the newest coin and stamp dealer in Salina, Kan., having recently opened his Salina Stamp and Coin Co. on 225 South Santa Fe.

Peckham is also serving as general chairman of the Salina Coin and Stamp show which will be held in the city's 4-H building on September 9 and 10.

Society Incorporates

The San Diego, Calif., Numismatic Society is now incorporated. Papers were filed for the non-profit organization in San Diego County by Charles M. Johnson, Long Beach, Calif. Directors are James A. Andersen, San Diego; Francis S. Jones, Coronado, and L. T. Gottschall, National City, Calif., according to the incorporation notice.

HI FOLKS...

First, let me beg forgiveness of all of those who have written, or shipped packages, or sent orders in while I was away at the A.N.A. Convention in Atlanta. Business was wonderful, and so many good things came along, I virtually exhausted my pocketbook. Just take a gander at this ad—something for everyone, and it's all cheap at half the price!

Been home just 2 days, and have already answered over 200 pieces of mail. Had to take time out for an ad, though, to balance the budget. It's 5:26 A.M. now, and the last mail which will get to Sidney, Ohio, by Saturday noon is about 7:00 A.M.

Mr. Ed Nelson, formerly proprietor of Nelson's Coin Shop, is now devoting full time to assisting me. The Lincolns are his baby, and with the added help, I hope to get out many more ads listing single coins.

Still have yet to return the first check for any of my uncirculated sets; cents through halves but a few have had to wait 3 or 4 extra days. Made up four roll sets of cents between Tuesday morning and Wednesday night.

Please bear with me if I'm holding up your money order or a response to your letter. A couple of hours sleep, and I'll tackle the other 200 pieces of mail.

Best regards,
SHOTGUN

GOLD! GOLD! GOLD!

CUBAN GOLD TYPE SET

1, 2, 4, 5, 10, 20 peso coins, all BU except 1 peso, which isn't half bad. None of these coins are easy anymore. Rumor has it the 20 peso (same size as our $20.00) is selling over $100.00 in New York. This nice set $179.50

$1. GOLD

Engren Buys Eureka Shop

Eureka Coin Shop of San Francisco, Calif., was purchased by Lloyd Engren, 21, June 1, from William H. Smith.

Engren said he will carry modern, and late U.S. coins in the shop, located at 678 Geary street.

Formerly conducting a mail order business from Daly City, Engren is originally from New Orleans, La. He moved to California in January, 1961.

A former college student, Engren attended Louisiana State University for two years. He has been a collector for the last six years.

Wheatland Club To Hold Picnic

Sunday, September 10, has been set for the annual picnic of the Wheatland, Pa., Coin Club, to be held in the Farrell, Pa., City Park, from 2 p.m. to 8 o'clock, according to a report from secretary Russell M. Mohney.

Final plans were slated to be discussed at the club's September meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, September 6, at the Pythian Temple Home, 71 Broadway, Wheatland, starting at 7 p.m.

At a recent session, F. N. Newton Jr., a new coin collector but a stamp collector of 50 years' experience, spoke on the Civil War era, with special emphasis on "Civil War Covers", and Civil War tokens.

Maine Group To Hold Meeting

The Maine Numismatic Association is holding its semi-annual meeting on September 16 at the Pilgrim House, Brunswick, Maine, according to Mrs. Leon A. Van Horn, secretary-treasurer.

Registration begins at 10 a.m.; two auctions will be held, the first beginning at 4 p.m. and the second at 7:30 p.m.

A smorgasbord dinner is scheduled for 5:30, but Mrs. Van Horn reported that 500 gallons of coffee and nearly two tons of sandwiches will be available for snacks throughout the day.

These are still the specialty of the house. My margin of profit is surely smaller than on anything else, but there is more satisfaction. I notice that everyone else has for the most part raised their prices well above mine. This is the big advantage of being in the roll business also, as it enables me to buy most of my rolls at wholesale.

Those of you who have limited funds to invest in coins, should consider the advantage of buying a BU set. You get a readily resalable item at roll prices. Any dealer will buy such a set, but only the few roll dealers will buy your rolls.

Coin Thieves Plague Vacationing Collectors

Burglars preyed on two vacationing families in Ladue, Mo., escaping with up to $30,000 in coins and stamps from a collection at one home, police reported.

Victims of the burglaries were Mr. and Mrs. Sidney W. Levinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Herzog.

Levinson, a coin and stamp collector for 25 years, said items taken from his collections were worth up to $30,000.

Police reported that the thieves broke open a padlock on a steel cabinet to get at the coins and stamps, but were unsuccessful in an attempt to roll a large floor safe out of the home.

The Levinsons had been vacationing in French Lick, Ind.

Value of the coins and stamps stolen from the Herzog home cannot be determined until the couple returns from their vacation in the West.

Burglars broke into the house by forcing a basement door, and then a second door leading upstairs.

An East Aurora, N. Y. man charged with conspiracy to dispose of the proceeds of a $3,664 burglary in June at the Marine Trust Co. branch in East Aurora changed his plea in Federal Court from innocent to guilty.

David E. Sweeney, 28, appeared before Federal Judge John O. Henderson without a lawyer.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said that $1,400 worth of collectors coins had been recovered in the loot.

A coin collection valued at $2,500 has been reported stolen by John Roderick of New Bedford, Mass.

Included in the loss were an uncirculated Jefferson nickel set and a complete set of Indian cents.

The coins were contained in a metal box, Roderick said, and stored in a closet.

A coin collection which included 3,000 silver dollars was taken by a burglar who ransacked the home of John D. Asparro in Portland, Ore.

Asparro, a restaurant owner, returned from vacation, and discovered that his collection had been pilfered. The thief also made away with a gold watch, three rings, and other items valued at nearly $1,000.

A collection of 50 dimes worth an estimated $200 and a $100 diamond ring were the principal items stolen from the home of Victoria Williams, Finneytown, near Cincinnati, Ohio.

Florida Dealer Robbery Victim

When Melvin Jacobson entered his coin and stamp shop in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., recently, he found his complete stock of U.S. gold, silver dollars, and rolls missing.

The store was apparently broken into at night. The thief was obviously not a coin collector because he took coins of high face value only and left behind many items of greater numismatic value.

Total value stolen is estimated at over $2,000 retail.

Police said entrance was gained by the burglar slitting a screen door on the east side of the house.

Scores of uncirculated Washington 1940-D quarters have been turning up in circulation in Canon City, Colo., approximately 100 miles south of Denver.

According to a report from Canon City, a coin thief may be trying to spend them.

Plastic-Sealed Mint Sets

These Uncirculated Mint Sets are sealed in plastic in the same way the U. S. Mint seals Proof Sets. These coins are protected by the sealed plastic. This is my SUMMER SPECIAL to introduce this new sealing method. All coins Br. Unc.

Chicago Festival October 13-15

"Superb exhibits with thousands of numismatic items in the guarded rooms on the mezzanine room of Hotel Sherman" was described today by Chicago Coin Club officials as the attractions in store for the annual fall festival October 13-15 in Chicago.

Harry X Boosel, chairman of the festival, who described Chicago as the numismatic crossroads of the world, said public demand caused the club to plan its fall event on a national and international scale (Canada will be represented, too.)

About 100 dealers are expected with 60 per cent of the space already reserved, Nathan Eglit, 134 N. LaSalle Street, Chicago, said. Registration fee is $1. There will be special ladies' activities, but no formal banquet will be held.

Exhibit Chairman Philip J. Moore, 1633 Monroe street, Evanston, Ill., said reservations are being accepted for space in many classes.

"In order to encourage the small collector and those of moderate means, competitive exhibits are being limited to three cases, regardless of whether the cases are furnished by the collector or provided by the convention," Moore pointed out.

Larger non-competitive exhibits will be invited and eligible for non-competitive awards, he said.

Awards will be something new for numismatics, he said. Application blanks and rules for exhibitors may be obtained by writing to Moore.

The auction has been awarded to Ben's Stamp and Coin Company. "He plans a whopper with something for everyone," said Chairman Boosel, who may be reached at 65 E. S. Water Street, Second Floor, Chicago, 1, Ill.

The Central States Numismatic Society plans to hold a board meeting in connection with the festival; the American Numismatic Association and the Professional Numismatists Guild, Inc., have also been invited to arrange board meetings.

Hugh Knight is president of the Chicago Coin Club. Michael Dolnick is first vice president; Nathan Eglit, second vice president; I. T. Kopicki, secretary-treasurer. Directors include Glenn Smedley, Harry Flower and Sal Genaldi.

Election Set For Kansans

Annual election of officers is expected to highlight the September meeting of the Neosho Valley Coin Club of Chanute, Kansas, scheduled for Wednesday, September 13, in the Federation room of the Chanute Memorial building, starting at 7:30 p.m.

This session will mark the return of the club to its regular meeting place, the group having moved during the summer to the Bank of Commerce.

Outgoing officers include Sam A. Waltermire, president; Dorothy M. Hayes, secretary; and Leroy E. Halsted, treasurer, and auctioneer. The club has 31 members, according to secretary Hayes.

UNSORTED LINCOLN CENT P PACKAGES

Everyone is raving over the new BEACON UNSORTED PACKAGES. More satisfaction than ever before.

NEW PRICE AND QUANTITY STRUCTURE

Due to the high cost of purchasing, shipping and processing of "raw" coins, we have arranged a new quantity package that should be more than satisfactory and pleasing to every purchaser.

ANY WAY YOU LOOK AT IT, HERE IS THE GREATEST NUMISMATIC VALUE OF THE YEAR. THE BEACON ELECTRO-SCANNER

The unsorted coins are electronically separated by the Electro-Scanner, a new device for separation via electronic waves. The coins used to "feed" the device are obtained from over fifty sources from every part of the continental United States and Canada. We have had great success in the sale of these unsorted coins in the past. We sold over 2200 packages from our latest ads and hundreds of these were re-orders. We have verified reports of all key and semi-key coins found in these packages. Although the packages offered in this ad are packaged in various quantities and categories, we are maintaining a steady flow of "raw" coins in our attempt to give you the ultimate in satisfaction. We know you will be pleased and satisfied as others have been. The value of these coins alone, if sold as singles, should bring in more than the cost of the package. They're great for trading or improving your own set. The new packages contain 200 coins in the following categories: 75 "S" mint coins, 75 "D" mint coins and 50 "P" mint coins, all from 1909 to 1961.

NOW, LET'S SHARE THE COINS!

1 Pkg. Unsorted Lincoln Cents	$10.00
3 Pkgs. Unsorted Lincoln Cents	29.00
6 Pkgs. Unsorted Lincoln Cents	55.00

The above prices supersede all previous price lists.

Dealers Note: Write! We have a "BEACON SEALED" package for over the counter sales. They will make you very popular with the coin collectors.

Battle Of The Buffalos

Collectors Raise Dust As They Protest Stand

With a great thundering, much pawing of the hooves and short blasts of fire from the nostrils, the Buffalo nickel specialists are being heard at Coin World via a stack of mail.

The acid communiques are the result of an editorial in Coin World, Friday, August 18, in which Editor Dick Johnson indicates he would like to lasso and hog-tie anybody who would restore a Buffalo nickel with chemicals.

Samples of reader-reaction from the wide open spaces follow: Coin buyers, Mr. Johnson, usually look at both sides of any coin before buying.

So, I'm not buying your ideas on "coin restorers" for the simple reason that you're selling only one side of this particular "coin".

Basically, any coin becomes altered as soon as it becomes circulated. Every person who handles that coin alters it in some degree—but it is still the same coin. Let us take two coins, a 1913 nickel and a 1943 cent. No matter how worn the nickel becomes it still is a 1913 nickel and if someone reverses the process and makes the date legible it then becomes, by your logic a less desirable coin.

The 1943 cent is altered by every handler even more than the nickel—every touch adds to the oxides on the coin. The person who reverses that process by taking the oxide off has not mutilated or altered the coin. He has simply removed the alteration put there by others.

Your statement calling those who restore or sell restored coins as parasites is entirely uncalled for. You've looked at only one side of the coin—again.

What coin collector wouldn't prefer a clean 1943 cent over a black specimen — a specimen which has been altered by many rather than by one person.
W. H. Hemry
Cody, Wyo.

I am a regular subscriber to your paper and enjoy the variety very much. But in all respect and sincerity I must disagree with your view point concerning the "Burning Out" of the buffalo nickel to bring out the full date.

In my opinion there is a big difference between "altering a coin" and "bring out its true identity." To "deliberately file" a leg on a buffalo nickel is definitely "altering" or "counterfeiting" the coin. But to burn into the metal of a coin to bring out its "true identity" is a marvel that adds interest and enjoyment to the collecting of these fast disappearing coins.

I personally enjoy placing a drop of solution on the completely blank surface of a buffalo nickel and watching the clear date appear before my very eyes. The date I see tells me that this particular coin was truly minted in that year. This definitely adds new life to a once "dead coin".

I do not hold any interests in selling solutions or "burned dates." I just enjoy bringing these buffalo nickels back to life.

John W. Gasparetto
Detroit, Mich.

I do not have nor have ever had a restored date nickel in my stock for sale. We have carried the product for those who like to use it but cannot have control over what they say after the date has been restored.

Although we have one for display, I think you know me well enough to know that I would not sell these nickels. We have always condemned the dealer who misrepresents coins as to altered dates and overgrading (this is the worst offender).

Hart Mayer
Kansas City, Mo.

I feel your recent editorial denouncing "restored-date" buffalo nickels was both untimely and unfair.

You claim that any buffalo without a date denotes a coin that has the entire surface worn—many "no-date" buffalo nickels have a half horn or more and the only worn feature is the date.

When you enter a museum and see rare paintings which have been restored and would be un-presentable otherwise you probably say "Oh, the restoration is OK, otherwise there would be no painting at all". Why is the restoration of dates to nickels any different?

Actually, the only large group who is against the mass marketing of "restored-date" buffalo nickels are dealers whose sales of non-restored date nickels drop because of the great difference in price. Many of the early date buffalo nickels are so highly priced that the only coins the average collector can afford are those whose dates have been renewed.

It seems as if your editorial was but an unsolicited (or unpaid) advertisement for the large mon-

Birthday Event For Lawndale Club

It was a Birthday Coin-A-Rama for the Lawndale Coin Club, Inc., recently at the Western Club, Gardena, Calif., for a buffet, auction, exhibits and special prizes. Exhibitors included, left to right, best-in-show, Horace Bloxam, Hawthorne; American paper money, Mel Fishel, Venice, first; medals and tokens, Joy Parrish, Lawndale, second; American coins, Bill Erdman, Los Angeles, first; American coins, Millicent Fishel, Venice, second; medals and tokens, Robert Axlrod, Los Angeles, first; foreign money, Gertrude Bartha, Santa Monica, first.

Los Angeles Signs 1,000

Los Angeles, Calif., Coin Club signed up members No. 999 and No. 1,000 at its recent meeting.

Receiving these distinctive membership numbers were Ralph Bradford, No. 1,000, and his son Ralph Jr., No. 999. Bradford Sr. is retired while Ralph Jr. is an accountant with Aerojet General Corp., Azusa.

A number of displays also featured the meeting with Karl Brainard's Humor in Numismatics taking first prize and a $5 award.

Other displays included: Thelma Case, shell money; William Koonce, New Zealand Forces-Maori Wars; Elizabeth Goodson, Coins of South America; Horace Bloxam, Quarter Size Coins; Harley Kaufman, History in Headlines.

An auction conducted by George Bennett concluded this the 401st meeting of the Los Angeles Coin Club.

Coin Auction At Arkansas Club

An auction, special awards, and "coin sorting" were to be features of the September meeting of the Pine Bluff, Ark., Numismatic Society, scheduled for Tuesday, September 12, at the Simmons First National Bank, at 7:30 p.m.

At the previous session, an exhibit of "So-called Half Dollars" and an auction were highlights of the program. During the auction, a 1914-D Lincoln cent in Good went for $26.00, a 1957 proof set in case brought $5, while a 1945-S Micro dime brought $3.05 in VG. In attendance were 42 members.

Sidney Club Plans Auction

The Shelby County Coin Club of Sidney, Ohio, has scheduled its next meeting for Thursday, September 14, to be held at the Dayton Power and Light Company Recreation rooms on Campbell Road, starting at 7:30 p.m. Visitors are welcome.

Featured on the program will be an auction, expected to be conducted by Norm Aufderhaar, president of the Tri-County Coin Club of St. Marys, Ohio.

At the last session of the Shelby County club, Aufderhaar exhibited an 1858 Flying Eagle cent found in circulation the previous week at the Auglaize County Fair, and a 1960-P small date cent from the same source.

Oklahomans To Meet

The Guthrie, Okla., Coin Club has scheduled its next meeting for Wednesday, September 13, to be held at the Ione Hotel, East Oklahoman Street, starting at 8 p.m.

A Good Investment . . . INDIAN CENTS IN QUANTITY

Indian cents are no longer to be found in circulation. Most old time hoards, have been widely scattered. We offer Indian cents, mixed dates of our choice, in Good or better condition:

500 to 1,000 pieces, 26c each.

1,001 to 10,000 pieces, 25c each.

No orders for over 10,000 pieces will be accepted.

With the ever growing demand for rare coins we predict that Indian cents will sell for $1.00 each in the not too distant future. They are a bargain at today's low price.

All coins shipped postpaid and insured. Pennsylvania residents please add 4% state sales tax.

Buffalo . . .

ey-hungry dealers who control the market on rolls and bags of Unc. coins, etc.

Why not an editorial denouncing this? Probably your advertisers who weekly offer full page ads of "processed 1943 cents and Unc. rolls with a low mintage of only 941,658,029 coins at only $19.95 per roll" would boycott your paper.

I am not trying to criticize nor make a slur on your paper, I am just expressing my views on a subject which concerns the amateur collector like myself.

David M. Bortrick
Philadelphia, Pa.

Your recent editorial on restored nickels is absolute nonsense. In this article you stretch the meaning of counterfeit to its limit.

A restored 1913-S buffalo nickel, for example, is absolutely a 1913-S nickel—no counterfeit!

Furthermore, you do take ads for reprocessed steel cents, which, according to your analysis, should be just as counterfeit as reprocessed nickels. How do you explain this inconsistency in policy?

Mike Miller
Manheim, Pa.

I don't think it was quite fair of you to state that a person who restores dates with acid on coins should be in the same class with one who alters and polishes coins to make them proof-like.

Sir, one who restores dates is not altering the coin in anyway. The date has always been there and always will be, but I don't think there is any harm in restoring the date.

Sir, you also stated that a coin without a date should be classed as poor. I don't know how you grade coins, but I have never heard of anyone grading a coin with no date. A coin without a date cannot be graded. I am not a dealer in coins, just a collector, and I am glad to pick up a hard date coin for a little less money, even if the date has been restored, for my collection. It is to be a good coin and not an altered coin.

Samuel F. Richardson
Bristol, Pa.

The funniest thing that I had seen I saw just now in Coin World No. 70 page Four. (Aug. 18)

Editor's article, "Restored Nickel Plague" is good and I agree that restored nickels are only for cheating innocent collectors. But it hits the high right next to that article the letter from Niles Newling who proposes to use his solution to wash away the zinc coating from wartime zinc-coated cents. So that the mint had not minted uncoated steel cents, then his processed cents are worthless for numismatic collections, and so processed cents can only (be) put in forgery collections. I wonder how you could afford to put such a letter in your paper, because it looks that Dr. Newling has no numismatic knowledge at all.

I would like to hear "CW" opinion on that matter.

Edgars Berzins
New York, N. Y.

Your stand on the subject of restoring the true and original dates of Buffalo nickels—or any other coins—strikes me as ridiculous and indicative of every shallow thinking.

To denounce such restoring is like condemning the restoration of a person's lost eyesight, or hearing, or speech, or the undoing of some of the ravages of time by medication, or treatment, or prosthesis. According to your reasoning, a physician or other therapist who does such things is an unethical quack.

You put those who use a chemical agent to restore to view a date that ACTUALLY EXISTS ON A COIN in the same class with those who "polish coins to look like proofs, and who alter dates and mint marks." To make a coin that is not a proof look like one is fraud; and to alter a date or mint mark is forgery, or worse; but to make visible once again a date that is right there on the coin and was put there by the Mint is no more wrongful than it is to restore works of art, or old undecipherable writings, or archaeological finds.

I suppose the atmosphere in your home is too sanctimonious to tolerate a restored Rembrandt painting that a rich uncle might buy for you and send you as a gift? I suppose you would burn the unholy restoration, disown your uncle and tell him he's an abettor of crooks?

Don't you realize how silly you make yourself look when you say a man who causes a faint date to become clear again is in the same category with one who chisels a 1944-D penny and sells it for a 1914-D?

This is written purely in defense of PRINCIPLE. I have buffalo nickels in my collection, but I do not know or have any reason to suspect that they include any with restored dates; though if they should, I would not feel ashamed.

Lincoln Grahls
New York Times
New York City

Your criticism seems to me to be unfairly harsh, in that you make a blanket condemnation of each and every person either manufacturing or using "restoring fluid".

There is no question that by the use of this "restoring fluid" one can take a "poor" condition, slick, dateless Buffalo Nickel and make a very nice readable coin out of it, although such a treated nickel has a rough, granular and pitted surface, and it is somewhat thinner than normal.

The important thing to realize, however, is that it is still a legitimate coin of the date and mint mark, not altered in any way in that respect. It is, moreover, a coin which is easily identifiable for what it is, a "restored" date coin. One who has seen and is aware of what "restored date" coins look like will not be "buffaloed".

The usual selling price of these coins runs to about one-half of the Red Book "good" price, which shows that they are not to be considered good, very good or fine specimens, even though every single detail shows up sharply, including such looked for indicators as the date, the horn or the word "Liberty".

It is a compliment to the manufacturer of the "restoring fluid" that you felt so strongly that you believed an editorial was necessary to prevent the coin collecting public from being duped. I agree that it is a practice which should be known and publicized, so as to prevent collectors and dealers from being taken in, but—I feel that it is for the individual collector to decide which he would prefer in his collection—a coin whose date is so faint as to require considerable imagination to determine the date, or to be able to identify a type one only because of the raised ground, or whether for about the same amount, he would rather have one which has been "restored".

If one is of the inclination, he can, of course, find his own which at the present is fairly easy to do. Should more persons so desire, the supply of dateless buffaloes will rapidly diminish and thus the value of the various scarcer dates might increase.

The fact that these coins are so easily detectable will not detract from the value of the untreated coins, anymore than the processed steel cents reduce the value of that uncirculated, untreated coin. I feel that the "restored date" buffalo should be placed in the same category with the processed cent.

Souvenir A.N.A. Extra Still Available

We have five hundred copies of the special A.N.A. EXTRA that was issued for the recent convention held at Atlanta, Georgia, and we would like to make them available to anyone interested in keeping their file of COIN WORLD complete.

This is an eight page tabloid printed on pink paper and was specially issued for those in attendance at the A.N.A. convention. It contains the latest coin prices prevailing at the time of the convention, the first published pictures of the new Cuban peso notes and other convention information.

This "Extra" did not appear as a part of the regular issues of COIN WORLD but was an added issue for the convention.

At the convention, many people commented on the "Extra" and we would like to share with you the limited copies we have left.

If you care for a copy of the "Extra" just send us a self-addressed stamped envelope and we will mail you your copy in the next mail. The postage required is 8c in the U.S.

We have only 500 extra copies available so be sure and send us your request immediately.

"Just For Today" In Action

In today's mail was an enlightening note from a Coin World reader out California way. It reads as follows:

Gentlemen:

My feeble experiences in coin collecting have been rather sad. I am always too late to get the bargains, if there are any such things. And the fellows who want things in your Wanted to Buy columns never do when I write them. So when you wrote recently that my subscription was about to expire I decided to let it, especially at the new rate of $4.00.

However a little thing changed my mind. It was the "Something Worth Thinking About" in the "Weekly Report To Our Readers".

So here is my four bucks. JUST FOR TODAY I'll try not to be resentful. Even though I'm just the seventy-two thousand two hundred and eighty-seventh—that is as of the 25th of August.

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted R. Hammer

An article in June about students and hoarders brought several questions about how old coin collecting is. When did it originate? This is one area in which we feel free to write like an expert—which we are not—because there's plenty of Ted R. Hammer evidence to support our view. We've long felt that whereas counterfeiting began the day after coinage started, collecting began that same day.

When did coin collecting originate? Who knows? There is little written evidence of coin collecting prior to the 12th or 13th century. That there were some collections is proved—we feel—by the hoards that have shown up. We have seen hoards of ancient Roman and Greek coins indicating someone sorted out specimens in nice condition and covering a long period. If you found in Rome or London an old vase full of coins, minted over a period of 100 to 300 or 400 years, wouldn't you believe that hoard was collected by a numismatist?

Such hoards have been showing up since before the fall of Rome, and during World War II hundreds of them were found.

A clay pot containing 150 coins was found in the ruins of an old road in London. It contained silver and bronze Roman coins minted 400 years apart, and each was different.

Perhaps some Roman soldier fought in England and was killed there, leaving his collection to be dug up centuries later. Perhaps the owner was a civil employe accompanying a general during an invasion. Both England and Italy produced and still produce numerous numismatists.

Petrarch (1304-1373), leader of the Humanists, is considered the first critical coin collector. There were serious collectors before this who lacked Petrarch's knowledge. He and his friends are considered as the initiators of the study of coins and medals.

At the beginning of the 14th century, Pope Boniface VIII bought all antiquities he could find. Soon afterward, Oliviero Forza was doing the same. Many coin cabinets were established during the Renaissance when collections of other items were assembled.

There have been numerous collectors among royalty while artists and scholars had many numismatists. Michaelangelo was among early collectors. It was recognized early that coins, like manuscripts and inscriptions, provided valuable information about the past.

A bust of Caesar might be expensive but almost anyone could acquire an old coin bearing his likeness. Roman portrait coins were popular centuries ago and they are well liked in the fraternity today.

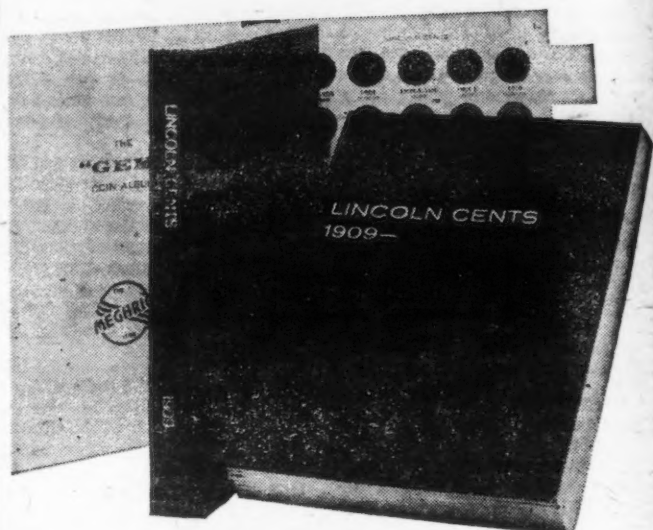

Washington Clubs To Plan Get-Together

A joint dinner and bourse with three other clubs in the area is being planned by the Stanwood, Wash., Coin Club, and is expected to be discussed at the next meeting of the club, set for Wednesday, September 13, at the Stanwood Fire Hall. No date has been announced for the joint session.

The Stanwood club, organized last April, has reported the election of a junior vice president, Allen Trondson, to represent the junior members, according to secretary E. I. Solld.

Call For Convention Announcements!

Chairmen of coming conventions should write to us as soon as their convention date is set.

Announcements are printed in Coin World for coming events six months ahead — or as space permits — but we welcome the information well in advance.

The following information is used in the calendar:

- 1) Dates of convention or show
- 2) Name of sponsoring organization
- 3) Name of convention or show
- 4) Name and address of convention site
- 5) Name and address of convention chairman

If you are planning your convention and want to know if the date conflicts with one already scheduled in your area, write us. We perform this service free to help avoid conflicts. Please include a stamped addressed envelope.

PRESENTING A NEW KIND OF COIN BOOK FOR ALL COLLECTORS, INVESTORS AND COLLECTOR INVESTORS!

UNCOVERED!

The prices of uncirculated U.S. Coins for each separate year since 1935! A fascinating year to year history of coin prices that will open your eyes! Learn what the yearly price change percentage has been on each coin. Many surprises in figures revealed!

1935	1936	1937	1938	1939	1940	1941
1942	1943	1944	1945	1946	1947	1948
1949	1950	1951	1952	1953	1954	1955
1956	1957	1958	1959	1960	1961	1962
1963	1964	1965	1966	1967	1968	$

WHAT WILL YOUR EXPENSIVE COLLECTION, YOUR COIN INVESTMENTS, BE WORTH IN THE YEARS AHEAD . . . WHAT ARE THEIR "MATURITY" DATES AND VALUES?

For the first time this priceless data is made available in "The Profit March Of Your Coins From 1935 To 1968." Here you will find a scientific and accurate scale of future values based upon what each coin has done in the past. Up until now such predictions were based on the mere pulling of a hypothetical figure out of the air. You'll see how coin prices change over the years, the price change percentages, coinage totals, projected prices from 1961 to 1968, comments on the future . . . on each and every uncirculated coin, roll, or proof set.

Reading this guide will leave you with a new respect for your investment.

You'll see what the prices were back in 1936, 1945, 1950 . . . or any other year! How they have changed, startlingly, in the thirties, forties and fifties . . . and what they will be in the next four or eight years!

Up until now, the factors involved in coin futuristics have not been presented so there has been no yardstick with which to measure the possibilities. Now revealing pages mathematically prove that most investments in coins will, regardless of present confusion, produce future yields that will far exceed expectations!

Not only the coin investor, but the collector should have this guide in his possession! Collections have a way of growing and growing until they represent a tremendous investment. If you have such a valuable collection or have set aside rolls, you should know how long it will be before your coins are worth a certain amount of money . . . enough, perhaps, for college educations . . . travel . . . emergencies . . . or even partial retirement (it has been done). You'll get the answers when you have this unusual book before you. You will be shown the individual price pattern of each coin, the length of each cycle and the frequency of change. With this set pattern you can observe how long the upsurges and the downsurges lasted in the past and govern future actions accordingly.

"THE PROFIT MARCH OF YOUR COINS FROM 1935 TO 1968"

LEARN WHICH COINS ARE LIKELY TO INCREASE IN PRICE FIRST.
WHICH WILL OFFER THE BEST SECURITY OVER THE YEARS.

Inasmuch as the past is but a mirror of the future, it would behoove any coin collector or investor to seriously review the past price history! Such records have always been available in other investment fields! Now for the first time you have the same opportunity! Don't guess or worry any longer because of a lack of investment knowledge!

GET THE FIRST AND ONLY GUIDE OF ITS KIND!

An important event in the coin collecting and investing field. Dealers: write for quantity prices.

Inter-State Coin Auction

The Inter-State Coin Club of Hagerstown, Md., has announced plans for a coin auction to be held on September 16 in commemoration of the 99th anniversary of the Battle of Antietam, reported Robert Timmons, a member of the auction committee.

(Antietam Battlefield is located just south of Hagerstown at Sharpsburg, Md.)

Auction, which will be held in the Regal Fence Co. Building located one mile west of Hagerstown on U. S. 40, begins at 1 p.m.

U. S. coins will be featured, including such key items as the 1864-L, 1908-S, and 1909-S Indian cents; 1942/41 Mercury dime; and the Louisiana Purchase, Lewis and Clark, and McKinley Memorial gold commemorative dollars.

Anyone desiring a list of coins for sale may obtain one by writing

Thaler Topic For Cisco Club

Louis Goodwin spoke on the Austrian thaler of 1486 at the recent meeting of the Cisco, Texas, Coin Club.

Goodwin related the historical background of this piece, one of the earliest dated coins, and then passed a beautiful specimen around so that the members could examine it.

Cisco Club's next meeting is scheduled for September 21 at Farley's Barbeque Stand.

Vacation Over

The R.C.A.-V.A.C. Coin Club of Lancaster, Pa., is scheduled to resume meetings on Wednesday, September 13, after a summer "vacation", according to secretary Cornelius J. Killoran of Bird In Hand, Pa.

to Timmons at P. O. Box 665, Hagerstown.

New Jersey Club To Meet

The New Jersey Numismatic Society of Newark has slated its 332nd meeting for Thursday, September 14, to be held in the Military Park Hotel, Park Place in Newark, starting at 8 p.m., according to a report from secretary James A. Brown.

At the last session of the club, James P. Ward spoke on the topic, "Private Gold Coins", explaining that they were "necessity pieces" which took the place of nuggets and gold dust. Usually the design as a mark of genuineness.

Range of denomination was 25 cents to $50, with bars being made as well, also name-stamped. The speaker explained that many of the smaller pieces are being imitated today as "souvenirs".

Exhibits at the meeting comprised mostly gold items, U.S. and foreign coins, and gold military medals, among others.

Pasadena Club Meets In Bank Building

The Pasadena, Texas, Coin Club has scheduled its next meeting for Friday, September 8, to be held in the San Jacinto State building, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Organized last April, the Pasadena club has reached a membership of 50 including juniors who are listed as regular members, and has an average attendance at meetings of 60 to 70 persons, according to secretary Bobby Yohe. Future plans include a coin show.

Club Holds Picnic

The Jefferson Clarion Coin Club held its annual picnic at the Knox Community Park, Knox, Pa., August 27. Ron Dascombe, Knox, was general chairman. Games, prizes and a basket lunch were features.

London Man Will Speak

F. Howard Whitfield of London, Ont., is slated to be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Waterloo, Ontario, Coin Society, to be held in the Waterloo public library on Tuesday, Sept. 12, starting at 7:45 p.m., according to a report from Mrs. Ruth Mueller, secretary.

At the last session of the club, Lloyd Smith, member of the London Numismatic Society, spoke on "Housing and Storing Coins". He discussed the relative merits of holders on the market, and described methods of making "do-it-yourself" holders.

Junior member Rickey Shantz

Coin Show For Union City

Plans for a Coin Show to be held at a future date are expected to be discussed at the next meeting of the Union City, Ind., Coin Club, set for Wednesday, September 6, in the American Legion hall on North Pearl Street, starting at 7 p.m.

At the last session, feature of the program was the showing of American Numismatic Association slides on Commemorative Half Dollars, with club officers Frank Williams and Harold Buckingham in charge and Mrs. Helen Jefferis doing the narrating.

exhibited miscellaneous foreign currency and flags.

Coinage Reveals
Much About Rulers

David Ash, Oakville, Ontario, numismatist, continues his discussion of the English coinage — relating his detailed descriptions to rulers of the empire.

His study this week includes coins from John (1199-1216) to Edward II (1307-1327):

By David Ash
Oakville, Ontario

John (1199-1216) Plantagenet House:

John, King of England, was the youngest son of Henry II by Eleanor of Aquitaine, and was born at Oxford, England, on December 24, 1167. When only five years of age John was betrothed to the heiress of Mavrenne and Savoy, a principality. He was granted the lordship of Ireland with the homage of the Anglo-Irish baronage in the year 1177.

During the reign of King John no English silver pennies were issued under his own name, although there are Irish coins on which he is described as the Lord of Ireland.

The first authentic coins issued by the kings of England as lords or kings of Ireland, however, were those struck by John — some being minted before his accession to the English throne, in virtue of his title, "Lord of Ireland." These bear mint marks of Dublin and Waterford, and a few later ones being struck at Limerick.

The only English silver coinage issued during John's reign were a few rare half-pennies struck in the London and Winchester mints; on the obverses of which there is the king's head facing right, and the legend "IOHANNES."

Henry III (E.G. 1216-1272) Plantagenet House:

Henry was the eldest son of King John by Isabella of Aquitaine. Born on October 1, 1172, he was only nine years of age at the time of his father's death. The title of regent was given by the loyal barons to William Marshal, the aged Earl of Pembroke, and Peter des Roches, the Poitevin Bishop of Winchester, received the charge of the king's person.

In the reign of Henry III a gold coin was struck, and under royal proclamation was ordered to pass current at the rate of 20 silver pennies. The coin did not meet with the approval of English traders; it is found that it was soon reduced in value and ultimately called in. On the obverse of this remarkable coin, the king is represented sitting on a throne; on the reverse a double cross with a rose in each angle.

The hammered silver penny currency of Henry III consisted of two issues. The first issue was very irregular in shape and difficult to decipher; the coins of the second, shows the head of the king, front face with a sceptre.

On the reverse is a short double cross with three pellets in each angle, a device which was retained for a great number of years on this silver coinage.

In close examination of Henry III coins, we find a silver penny; on the reverse a short cross; the obverse, the king's face cut off at the chin. A silver penny; the reverse a long cross; the obverse, a large clear struck bust. Another silver penny; the reverse a long cross; the obverse a crude bust. Another example; a silver penny; the reverse a long cross; the obverse the king holding a sceptre. There are many mint marks to be deciphered, and the gold penny is now rare.

Henry III died at Westminster on November 16, 1272.

Edward I (1272-1307) Plantagenet House:

Edward I was born at Westminster on June 17, 1239, and was the eldest son of Henry III and Eleanor of Provence. He was baptized Edward after Edward the Confessor, for whom Henry had special veneration. In the first 15 years of Edward's reign he conquered the principality of Wales.

There were no gold coins issued in this reign. The hammered silver pennies and half-pennies, however were increased by the addition of a silver farthing, the three values being issued from many different mints, notably London, Berwick, Bristol, Canterbury, Durham, Exeter, Lincoln, Reading and York. However, a pattern groat was issued in very small quantities, but not placed into circulation. The groat on the reverse shows a long cross, and the inscription "LONDONIA CIVI."

The silver penny, half-penny, and farthing carry on the reverse the long cross with pellets, and the obverse the king full-face.

At the age of 68 Edward had to face the prospect of conquering Scotland for the third time. (A fascinating story in the English and Scottish history). Edward resolved to take the field in person, but the effort was too great, and on July 7, 1307 he died at Burgh-by-Sand, near Carlisle.

He was buried at Westminster under a plain slab on which was inscribed "EDWARDVS PRIMVS SCOTORVM MALLEVS HIC"

The true parasites of the coin world, however, are those who attempt to deceive and defraud. The persons who would use "restoring fluid" with the intent to defraud someone else deserve the criticism. But the definition of fraud according to Funk and Wagnall is:

"1. Deception with the object of gaining by another's loss; craft; trickery; guile.

2. One who acts fraudulently, a cheat.

3. A deceptive or spurious thing.

A fraud is an act of deliberate deception with the design of securing something by taking unfair advantage of another."

Primary among those who would be guilty of fraud are those who would sell the processed and restored nickels and cents as good, fine or BU. Equally guilty are those who misrepresent condition by overgrading. I feel that this paper should adopt a set standard of grading which everyone who advertised herein must follow.

Then it would be no problem for purchasers of coins through advertisements in the paper to know exactly what they are getting. While I disagree with certain portions of Brown and Dunn, it at least sets a standard by which one can tell what he is to get.

You would only be equitable in allowing those who wish to advertise "restored date" nickels by putting them on an equal footing with the advertisement of processed cents.

Should you fix a standard set of grading condition for your advertisements, as well as limitations on what can be advertised, you will be making a constructive addition to a hobby and business in which we both believe.

EST. PACTUM SERVA" ("Here lies Edward the First, hammer of the Scots, Keep the agreement")

Edward II (1307-1327) Plantagenet House:

Edward the Second, King of England was born at Carnarvon Castle, Wales, on April 25, 1284, and he was the fourth son of Edward I by Eleanor of Castile. In the year 1301 he was created the first Prince of Wales, and on his accession to the throne in 1307 proved to be a weak king and strongly influenced by his court favorites.

The silver coinage of Edward's reign consisted of pennies, half-pennies, and farthings, with the long cross on the reverse; on the obverse, the king full face. However, there are many mint marks.

In the years 1314 and 1323 Edward was defeated by Robert Bruce, who was permitted to assume the title of Scotland. When his queen, Isabella, entered an intrigue with the dissatisfied barons in 1326, Edward was deposed by Parliament, made a prisoner and murdered in Berkeley Castle near Gloucester on September 21, 1327.

Texas Show Brings Crowd

The joint convention of the San Angelo, Texas, Coin Club and San Angelo Gun Club attracted nearly 3,000 visitors from all over the state of Texas, as well as from neighboring states, reported Tom Moffitt, convention chairman.

Exhibits included displays of early American coins, Confederate currency, foreign gold, and odd and curious money.

Over 50 coin dealers participated in the bourse which was described as being very successful.

Auction Scheduled

An auction is slated to be the feature of the September meeting of the Richmond, Va., Coin Club, scheduled to be held on Wednesday, September 13, at the Westhampton branch of the Southern Bank and Trust Company, 3201 West Cary St., starting at 7:30 p.m., according to a report from secretary Luther S. Reams.

Club To Picnic

The Oakville, Ontario, Coin Club will hold a picnic Sunday, September 10, with games, contests, prizes and refreshments for every member of the family, according to Mrs. Claudia Pelkey, secretary. Exact time and location will be mailed to each club family.

Club Plans Annual Banquet And Auction

The Kanawha Valley Coin Club, Charleston, W. Va., has scheduled its annual banquet and auction for September 19 at Roy's Cafeteria, West Washington street, reported Stanley G. Legg Jr., secretary.

Banquet starts at 6:15 p.m., while the auction begins at 7:30 p.m. Over 100 lots are included in the auction, with mail bids being accepted by Legg at 713 Virginia street, S. W., South Charleston 3. Mail bids close on September 18.

"Have You The Saint-Gaudens?"

Will be a popular question collectors will be asking in years to come. The Saint-Gaudens medal is, of course, the first in the COIN MEDALS series. After the Saint Gaudens is sold out, collectors will be able to buy only from another collector. We are selling the entire 5,000 issue, we are not keeping back any certain numbers or portions of the issue to sell in the future at a higher price.

COIN MEDALS will be the coin collector's own personal medal collection, and very few will want to sell them once they have acquired them. COIN MEDALS bring you a closer, more intimate appreciation of the real artistry of the men who designed the coins we collect.

It will cost you only the price of a package of cigarettes a day, to own the entire series of COIN MEDALS. In other words, send along $10.00, and you will have a Saint-Gaudens Silver Medal reserved for you, and you will receive acknowledgement of the order with serial number of your medal. Then you pay the balance of $17.50 in two monthly payments, whereupon your medal will be shipped. The same payment plan applies to all future silver COIN MEDALS, of which we plan to issue about three each year.

The next medal will be the Victor David Brenner. Believe it or not, we are receiving paid orders for the Brenner medal in both silver and bronze. If this is not a real indication of interest in COIN MEDALS, then what could be? Of course, these customers have already bought the Saint-Gaudens, and just want to be sure of getting the same serial number in the Brenner. This, however, is not necessary, as any purchaser of the Saint-Gaudens is automatically reserved the same number in the next medal when it is issued.

JUST PURCHASED . . .

A choice collection of real crazy mis-struck Lincoln Cents and Roosevelt Dimes. These are all Unc. coins, and must have really flipped around in the dies when struck. They have several dates, double dates, triple dates, words double, triple struck everywhere. These are not just ordinary double-shift like the 1955/55 Cent. You have to see them to believe 'em, and we are not asking $75.00 to $100.00, which they are worth, not even $50.00, but only..... my choice $32.50

We still have a good quantity of the Ancient Roman Silver Tetradrachms left, although we sold several hundred the first week. These are EF to Unc., priced at $4.95, $6.95, $8.95 each. One customer returned his $8.95 coin, because it wasn't BU. So don't order if you expect a coin buried in an earthenware pot 1700 years to be BU. They are very sharp coins, and in this condition sell over $20.00 each when classified. This reminds me of the time a customer returned a Sesqui. Half Dollar, with the complaint the Liberty bell was cracked. You have to take a coin as is, whether it is just old, or made that way. But Johnson refunds promptly, regardless.

New Officer At Oklahoma

Mrs. A. M. Palange has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Lawton-Fort Sill, Okla., Coin Club, replacing E. J. Leverett Jr., who has moved to Texas, according to a recent club report. Her first full meeting in office was to be held on Monday, August 28.

At the August 28 session, contributions were expected to be made toward the club's project of a coin display for the Museum of the Great Plains. Project chairman Mrs. Hal Hallett has asked for member donations of coins dating from 1880 to 1905, the period of greatest historical interest for the territory.

An auction was to be the feature of the meeting, set for the Civic room of the Security Bank and Trust Company, at 7:30 p.m.

U.S.-English Laws Similar

English laws concerning the holding of gold are similar in many cases to American laws, and these regulations, of course, directly affect the collector of gold coins.

Britishers, for example, cannot deal in gold bullion, nor are they allowed to hoard gold of any kind. They may, however, purchase coins for collecting purposes, but if they buy excessive amounts of contemporary gold coins of any country, they are "suspect"—and the coins would also be subject to confiscation.

However, as a leading English coin dealer stated, "Our laws concerning the holding of gold bullion and gold coins are so complicated now that even Bank of England officials have a difficult time in interpreting them."

While traffic in gold flows comparatively freely in countries like Switzerland, France and Germany, its movements are highly restricted in England and the United States.

"Can the sum total of those gold coins sought by collectors have any real bearing on the monetary system of a nation or nations?" is a question that we might well ask.

This question was appropriately answered by a London coin dealer who commented: "The amount of bullion in gold coins generally held by collectors is so small, as compared to the total amount of existing bullion, that they probably could not cast any real influence on the world's monetary systems."

Waterloo Coin Society Heads Playground Project In Area

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a two-part series on summer playground coin clubs that have been extremely successful in Waterloo and Kitchener, Ontario, under the leadership of Frank G. Uttley, president of the Waterloo Coin Society).

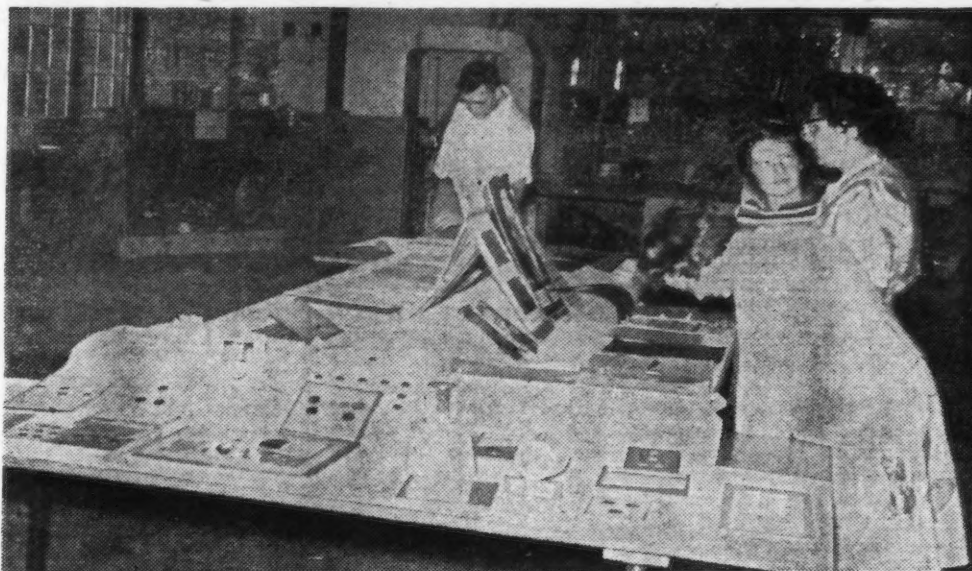

The Junior Summer Coin Club was organized in 1959, only a few months after the sponsoring Waterloo Coin Society itself was organized.

Credit for the suggestion of having "little coin clubs" at each public playground in Waterloo goes to Nicholas Wiens, who was at that time Director of the Waterloo Recreation Department.

This suggestion was met with whole-hearted approval by the Society, and a committee for carrying out the plan was established.

Frank Uttley was named as chairman of the committee and he was assisted by Ed Stahley, William English, Gary Peiper, Robert Youngblut, and Heinz Herzog.

The committee decided that there should be a one-hour coin meeting at each of the five playgrounds for five consecutive weeks. Committee members would conduct meetings on days that they were free. In practice, they became playground coin program leaders.

Visual aids were emphasized in the Waterloo Coin Society's junior summer playground program. They were mounted in various novelty settings — George V cents were glued on the egg tray, a coronation medal was suspended in a white golden frame, a coin display tray was made with pop bottle caps on a decorated board, an ice cream plastic container held a Chinese coin which, by turning a wire crank at the top, showed both the obverse and reverse.

Meetings at first consisted of leaders telling coin stories, and distributing numismatic bulletins especially prepared for the children by the Society. Treasure hunts for coins were added to the program, as the youngsters became more and more interested in coins.

Since the boys and girls continued to show real enthusiasm for the coin activity section of the playground program, the plan was put into practice again for the following year, whence the idea spread to neighboring Kitchener.

The Kitchener Recreation Department gave their full cooperation.

Bridgeport, a suburb of Kitchener, was also included in the program, and thus three communities with a total population of approximately 100,000 received the benefit of the Waterloo Coin Society's aid in establishing Junior Summer Coin Clubs.

In 1961, a total of 15 playgrounds had coin clubs operating with a total membership of about 300 children, ranging in age from 6 to 14.

The full-time playground leaders of the three recreation departments assisted in the program, with materials being prepared for them by the Waterloo Society.

Thus, in only two years, Nicholas Wiens' idea has developed into an integral part of the playground programs of three cities, and Frank Uttley and the Waterloo Coin Society deserve no small share of the credit for its success.

Next week: Some of the coin club activities that children have enjoyed most at the playgrounds.

Memberships Goal Of Club

The Allegheny-Kiski Valley Numismatic Society of New Kensington, Pa., is conducting a membership drive, to last until December, according to recently elected secretary Radion A. Litvinovich, with a preliminary report of progress expected to be made at the next meeting on Thursday, September 14.

Current club enrollment totals over 100 members, but the figure includes all who have joined since the founding of the organization in March, 1956, some of whom have died or moved away.

Any interested collectors are invited to attend the meetings, held in the East Kensington Community Circle building, Seventh Street Road, New Kensington, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Edward Stahley (right) president of the Waterloo Coin Society in 1960, judges an entry as Frank Uttley, this year's president, double checks.

Other photos taken during the 1960 junior summer playground coin club program, a Waterloo, Ontario, Coin Society project, include, from top: William English, founder of the coin society, arranges some of the displays. Second from the top, are the competitive collections and booklets horseshoeing the center visual aids. The booklets contain six pages of mimeographed coin articles taken mostly from Coin World plus a coin collection of cents, as shown in one open book cover in front of the Indian. The children made their own covers. Bottom photo shows another view and a trio of intent spectators. Mrs. Ed Stahley, Mrs. Ruth Mueller and Phil Mueller were not present when the photos were taken, but their services were invaluable in carrying out the project.

Ancient Gold Prices Zoom

By Robert Obojski

Ancient Greek, Roman and Byzantine gold coins are becoming increasingly difficult to obtain on the open market.

This seems to be the opinion of most of the European dealers I spoke with during my recent tour of England and the Continent.

"I simply can't keep up a good stock of ancient and classical gold coins," commented a London dealer, "because most of the choice items are being held firmly by collectors."

Prices for ancient gold thus have gone up considerably during recent years and those prices may continue to jump even higher.

"Collectors, of course, appreciate the fact that gold is the premier metal for coins," said a Zurich dealer, "and pieces going back to the third and fourth centuries B. C. still retain their brilliance and lustre."

Gold is not adversely affected by time, and cannot rust or corrode. The Zurich dealer explained that when some of the details of a gold coin are worn down, the metal has not really been lost, but has merely been driven into the coin itself. Even after years of usage, a gold coin would lose only an extremely slight amount of metal.

All gold used in contemporary coins is allotted with other metals in order to make the coin more durable. The ancient Greeks, however, often used pure gold, and thus definite marks of wear can be seen, for example, on the coins of the period of Alexander the Great, fourth century B. C.

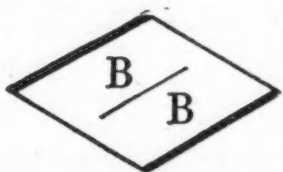

Most modern gold coins are about 90 per cent fine as opposed to the Greek's 100 per cent.

Milford Club To Have Show

Milford Coin and Stamp Club, Milford, Mich., has scheduled its Second Annual Exhibition for October 1, at the Milford American Legion Hall, 510 West Commerce. Doors will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

There will be bourse tables, special prizes, and top-notch displays of both coins and stamps, announced Clarke H. Jeffers, club secretary-treasurer, who is acting as exhibition chairman.

Jeffers, who can be contacted at 648 Canal, Milford, says that he can arrange for motel and hotel reservations for outstate guests.

Discussion On Counterfeiting

Gordon Duncan spoke on the process of printing currency at the recent meeting of the Dearborn, Mich., Coin Club.

Duncan, who is a Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., police officer, showed photos of genuine and counterfeit U. S. bills, and explained methods by which counterfeiters can be spotted.

C.A.M. Smith, on behalf of the membership of the club, presented Donald Squire, president, a cherrywood gavel with a sterling silver inscription plate. Presentation was made in appreciation of Smith's efforts in organizing the club in 1960.

Smedley Scheduled At Tree Towns Club

Glenn B. Smedley, assistant to the editor of "The Numismatist" and co-ordinator for the "Red Book", is scheduled to be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Tree Towns Coin Club of Elmhurst, Ill., set for Wednesday, September 13, in the Y.M.C.A., 211 West First Street, starting at 8 p.m. Visitors will be welcome.

The Tree Towns club was organized last winter, and is the second coin collectors group in Elmhurst, the other being a junior club which has been in existence for several years.

Siewert New Junior Leader

At its recent meeting, the Louisville, Ky., Coin Club held an election of officers for its Junior Division.

Elected were: James Siewert, president; Robert Samuel, vice president; Larry Gray, secretary-treasurer.

These junior officers will assist the senior members in planning club meetings in the near future, reports David L. Simmons, club president.

Texas To Organize

Coin collectors in the Lufkin, Texas, area were slated to meet recently in the Texas Power and Light Company's public service room for the purpose of organizing a coin club. Information on future meetings may be obtained from Todd Haney of the East Texas Coin Exchange, phone NE 2-2632.

ATTENTION DEALERS!

For some time we have realized it is difficult for the average dealer to tie up a large amount of capital in higher priced rolls in order to have singles to sell. Dolbee, Inc., proposes to do something about this problem. We will supply singles (listed below) in lots of 5, or more, at prices slightly above roll prices. This has been tried before, but usually prices were too high and the small dealer could not resell at a reasonable profit. With our large roll stock, we believe we can render a valuable service to the small or medium size dealer. We shall continue to advertise full rolls in alternate ads. See last week's ad in Coin World for roll prices.

Club Meets At Hall

Tuesday, September 12, has been set for the next meeting of the Loudonville, Ohio, Coin and Stamp Club, to be held in the AFL-CIO Union Hall on Main Street, starting at 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Russel Reynolds, secretary. The club is making plans for an auction sometime in October.

Howe, Otis Address Club

The Club of Illinois Numismatists, Homewood, Ill., held its August meeting in the Homewood Village Hall.

George Howe of the Oak Park, Ill. Coin Club was invited as guest speaker and spoke on new trends in coin collecting, while Paul Otis, C.O.I.N. president, spoke on gold and gold coins.

Highlight of the evening was the official presentation to C.O.I.N. for having won the second place club award in the American Numismatic Association's National Coin Week Competition.

Marion Club Shifts Dates

The Marion, Ohio, Coin, Stamp and Hobby Club had previously announced that they would hold their fourth Annual Auction on October 1.

However, due to a conflicting date with a show scheduled at nearby Mount Vernon, the Marion club has shifted the date to one week later, October 8th, reported Wendell Morningstar, club president.

The Marion show will be staged at the U.A.W.-C.I.O. Union Hall, Leader and Joseph streets.

Further show information may be obtained from chairman Robert Hensel, 533 Blaine avenue, Marion.

Shop Incorporated

The Littleton, Colo., Coin Shop has been incorporated by James E. Dixon Jr., 2560 W. Main Street, according to a recent announcement.

Exonumists Nominate Candidates

Nominations committee of the Southern California Exonumist Society, La Mesa, Calif., nominated the following members for 1962 offices at its recent meeting:

Paul Hamm, president; Ralph A. Mitchell, vice president; Russell Rulau, secretary; Virginia Culver, treasurer; Walter J. Pettit, board of directors.

An exhibition was held and exhibit trophies were awarded to three members: first, Virginia Culver, Civil War tokens; second, Eoyal Howard, Israeli medals and coins; third, Paul Hamm, so-called dollars. Other exhibitors were awarded ribbons.

A two-hour 72-lot auction of exonumist material was conducted by Russell Rulau, actioneer. The sale included 22 rare off-metal Civil War tokens. Rulau was assisted by Elmer T. Twedt, Edward G. Memel, and Lance Rulau.

Don Crutcher acted as host for this meeting held at La Mesa's Recreation Center, and he arranged a baked ham dinner.

The Exonumist Society will have its next meeting in conjunction with the California State Numismatic Association's fall convention scheduled for November 2-5 at Santa Monica.

Need Books On Paper Money

"A precious few books have been written on foreign paper money and most of those are written in foreign languages," declared G. E. Broughton, president of the Old Fort Coin Club, New Haven, Ind., in the club's monthly bulletin Coin Chatter.

"All are difficult to obtain and are quite expensive as a rule," continued Broughton.

"There is a dire need for someone to at least translate some of these books into English and have them published. Collectors of foreign paper money would increase considerably in number if this were done," he concluded.

Jacksonville Club Elects Officers

Jacksonville, N. C., coin club elected the following officers at its recent meeting:

Dr. A. J. Guida, president; Capt. E. D. Bedwell vice president; Tom DeAngelo, treasurer; Dr. D. J. Robinson, secretary; G. H. Moore, assistant secretary.

The Jacksonville Club meets on the first day of each month at the Jack Amyette Recreation Center at 7:30 p.m.

Americans Go British

"American collectors seem to be collecting English bronze farthings more avidly nowadays than our own British collectors," commented a London dealer recently.

The dealer observed that the sudden interest resulted from the demonetization of the farthing on January 1, 1961, and the subsequent appearance of the Whitman folders for farthings.

The series started in 1860, and was discontinued after 1956.

"It's possible for the collector of average means to complete the set," added the dealer, "but a number of the farthings are quite elusive, including the 1875 and 1877 issues," he added.

London dealers have observed that American numismatic investors have tried to buy the farthings in quantity from British banks and dealers, but they warn that the large majority of 20th century farthings, and some of the 19th century issues, have little real value unless they are in uncirculated condition.

And during recent weeks uncirculated farthings have been hard to come by in any appreciable quantity.

Soy City Club To Hold Show

The Soy City Coin Club of Decatur, Ill. is holding its third annual coin show on November 4 and 5 at the Elks Club, Decatur.

Program will include two auction sessions, and exhibits with awards in three categories, U. S. coins, world and general.

Special prizes will be awarded every hour.

A few bourse tables are still available and reservations may be secured by writing to Mrs. Irene De Zarn, 119 Pennsylvania avenue, Decatur.

Uniontown Club Forms Recently

Uniontown, Ohio, is the home of one of the state's newest coin clubs, organized recently with Glen Williams as president and Jack Craiglon as secretary-treasurer.

Next meeting will be held on Sunday, September 10, at the First National Bank in Ellet, Ohio, starting at 2 p.m. Interested collectors in the area are invited to attend.

Crawford County Club Has Auction

Crawford County Coin Club, Robinson, Ill., held a very successful coin auction at its recent meeting, reported Mrs. Dorothy Reavill, club secretary.

Sammy Crouch, chairman of the auction committee, served as auctioneer.

The Crawford County club meets on the last Friday of each month at the Woodworth Hotel in Robinson.

Ronnie Carr Exhibits Gold

San Francisco Coin Club will feature Ronnie Carr and his fine collection of California and Territorial gold coins at its September 15 meeting beginning at 7:30 p.m. Carr has spoken on and displayed these coins at many coin clubs throughout the West.

Beginning with this meeting, the San Francisco club will meet at its new headquarters, San Francisco Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park, just off Ninth avenue and Lincoln Way.

American Numismatic Association slides on pioneer gold will also be shown.

The club will mark its first anniversary at its October 20 meeting. New members are always welcome.

Club Expands Meeting Facility

Because of enlarged membership, the Hialeah, Fla., Stamp and Coin Club has been forced to move its meetings into the large west wing of the Adult Community Center, 20 West 6th Street, in Hialeah.

Feature of each session is an auction of coins and stamps conducted by Louis Montessi. The club meets on the second Monday of the month, the next session being scheduled for September 11, at 7:30 p.m., with any interested collectors invited to attend.

English "Napkins"

Until they were reduced in size a few years ago, English five-pound notes were so large that they were called "napkins."

Key Club Plans Show

The Key Coin Club, New Haven, Conn., is completing plans for its annual coin convention scheduled for October 21 and 22 at the New Haven Y.W.C.A.

Featured will be exhibits, a bourse, auction, and many special prizes. Complete catering service from sandwiches to dinners will also be available.

Key Coin Club has gained access to a rare stamp collection worth about $25,000, and this collection will be displayed at the convention.

Reservations for bourse tables may be obtained by writing to Frank C. Mirto, convention chairman, at 471 Legion avenue, New Haven.

Collectors Plan To Revive Group

Coin collectors from Southeastern New Mexico and western Texas were slated to hold a meeting recently in Hobbs, N. M., for the purpose of reactivating the Lea County Coin Collectors Club, dormant the past two years.

In charge of the meeting, which was to be held in the Public Room of the New Mexico Bank and Trust Company, was the last president of the old organization, Fred Boyd of Hobbs. He anticipated that new officers would be chosen and that more than 60 active collectors would become members of the revived club.

Pennsylvania Club Plans Joint Session

The Waynesboro, Pa., Coin Club has scheduled its next meeting for Thursday, September 14, in the Citizens National Bank basement community room, starting at 7:30 p.m., at which time preliminary plans will be discussed for a three-club meeting on November 2.

At that time, the Libertytown, Md., and Mt. Airy, Md., clubs are slated to get together with the Waynesboro club in "neutral" territory at Walkersville, Md. No details for the meeting have been reported as yet.

A WORD TO THE WISE ON 1960-P SMALL DATE CENTS

A lot of the dealers' supply of the 1960-P small date cents is exhausted. Many checks were returned at low prices and actually we do not believe there are many of these rolls around in large quantities. While we do not have a large supply, we can supply a reasonable number of rolls, but it is our honest opinion that this roll is on the way up and will sell for over $200.00 before the year is out.

We anticipate a steady increase from week to week. $117.50

Numismatist Visits Famed Ruins

This is the conclusion of a numismatic travelogue, prepared by A. E. H. Petrie, editor of The Canadian Numismatic Journal, for Coin World, following his return from a long look at numismatics in England, France, Spain and Greece.

By A. E. H. Petrie
Ottawa, Ontario

After a pleasant air voyage from Spain up over the Rhone Valley past Mont Blanc's sunlit grandeur, we stopped briefly at Geneva Airport in the midst of Swiss Alps. Then, we changed to a jet and ascended to 30,000 feet, well above mountains and clouds, our journey continued—this time to Athens. I was surprised at the present extent of this ancient capital, which numbers more than 2,000,000 out of a total Greek population of some 9,200,000.

During a sojourn of eight days at Athens, another busy but attractive modern metropolis, I took ample occasion to see that supreme monument of Western Antiquity, the Parthenon.

Behind its inspiring ruin on the Acropolis stands an unobtrusive building containing displays of famous archaic statuary and fragments of Phidias' gloriously lovely frieze for the shrine of the maiden goddess, Pallas Athene. Adjacent, down below, is the Agora (Market and Civic Centre) of Ancient Athens, now largely cleared of later structures and rubble, with principal finds there housed in the rebuilt Stoa of Attalos, a particularly outstanding shopping centre first erected about 150 B.C.

These tremendous archaeological labors have been carried out by the American School of Classical Studies, half of their funds donated by the late John D. Rockefeller Jr., and performed under the direction of Professor Homer Thompson, a Canadian who formerly headed the Department of Classical Archaeology at Toronto's Royal Ontario Museum.

We had the privilege of attending private classes held by Dr. Gisela M. Richter at the American School and concerned with portraiture of famous Greeks who lived during centuries just before Christ. Perhaps the most interesting of these was the likeness of Hippocrates, Father of Medicine: the first depictions of him known to modern disciples occur on two coins of Cos (his own Aegean Island) minted in the second century A.D.—one a profile head, the other a seated figure.

Returning to the Stoa of Attalos, we understood that over 100,000 coins dating from the 6th century B. C. down to the 19th century A. D. were found in the course of Agora excavations and are today stored in its Museum, though only a few may actually be seen—ranging from a Persian daric of the 5th Century B.C. to a French goldpiece of Napoleon III.

Athens' vast National Archaeological Museum overwhelmed one by its extent and wealth of treasures covering every period of Greek history since the fourth millennium before Christ. However, fine ancient silver and gold coinage is not available from Greek dealers but taken over by the state when found.

The same situation existed on Rhodes, surely one of the world's most radiantly happy isles: its only "ancient" silver all consisted of excellent modern replicas—too perfectly centered, nicely toned and essentially lifeless in character to deceive anyone but an eager amateur, and much too reasonably priced in any case, since they are merely intended for use as jewelry.

However, after a great deal of searching through the trays of little curio shops in the City of Rhodes, I succeeded in obtaining some choice late Roman small bronze of the 4th-5th centuries A.D., and two rare scyphate coppers of the 11th century.

For the rest, condition was usually deplorable, though the fun of seeking and possibly finding something unusual made one's trouble worthwhile. Not a few of the medieval silver bits there—all that I saw were badly worn or struck—originated with the Crusades—and this brings to mind one of Rhodes' most famous show-places, the restored Castle of the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, or Knights Hospitallers—their home base before being expelled to Malta early in 1523.

On alternate evenings they presented this event through the Spectacle of Sound and Light in four successive languages: French, German (many Germans from Hamburg and West Berlin spend their holidays in Rhodes), English and Greek. Through a dramatic performance without visible actors (voices of a narrator, main personages in the action, music and skilful illuminations of battlements, gardens and gates compensated for their absence), we witnessed and appreciated the significance of the Knights' losing battle to the Turkish Sultan in 1522.

The meaning of this heroic and deeply moving experience effectively registered with each person present, as did the ultimate nobility shown by Christian and Moslem alike in their conflict. Indirectly, it pointed up with endless waste of considerable talents and young lives which might better have been dedicated on both sides to more constructive ends.

Looking back upon Spain and Greece, it is evident that their fine peoples—despite, and perhaps because of terrible sufferings during past decades—are not wasting time in regrets or self-pity but working with might and main to build up, to restore, land and communities as rapidly as possible.

West German visitors, so numerous in both countries, have not withheld technical aid and training from Spain, and are ready to do the same for Greece when she is prepared to accept. Despite old antagonisms and present alarms, the will to a common market and better world is there; a United States of Europe may not be too distant, after all!

World Paper Money Club Seeks Additional Members

World Paper Money Club's first meeting was held on Saturday morning, August 19 in the Petite Lounge of Atlanta's Biltmore Hotel during the latter stages of the American Numismatic Association convention, reported Peter Robin, secretary.

Present were 15 members and friends, all of whom are interested in at least one phase of paper money collecting. Walter Loeb is W.P.M.C. president.

Tentative approval was given to plans to (a) make this breakfast meeting a permanent feature of the A.N.A. conventions (b) to call meetings from time to time in various cities of the U.S. (c) to raise the dues from the nominal rate of $1.20 to $3 per year so that Dwight Musser, editor of the club's bulletin, will have the opportunity to produce a quality publication, and (d) to offer to the A.N.A. a panel of experts, drawn from the club membership, to judge those competitive displays of paper money at conventions with which the average judge is not well acquainted.

World Paper Money Club is open to anyone with an interest in paper money. Those interested in joining may send a check or money order for $3 to Peter Robin at 5324 Wynnefield avenue, Philadelphia 31, Pa.

Juniors Take Charge Of Club

Youth took over at the last meeting of the White Lake Coin Club of Montague, Mich., when junior members were chosen as acting officers for the session.

Roger Mathes was president for the day; Raymond Landis Jr., secretary, and Jan Hook, treasurer.

Speaker at the session was William Marquand who described a recent trip to the southern part of the United States, telling of the ways he located coin shops and coin clubs in different cities.

Authority Speaks At Wisconsin Club

Miss Ottilie Buerger, Mayville, Wis., coin collector, was a guest speaker recently at the Fond du Lac Coin Club.

Miss Buerger, who specializes in ancient Greek and Roman Coins, presented slides of the coins with her talk. She was introduced by Andrew Ertl, president of the club, and presented with an honorary membership from the group.

Athens and the Acropolis with the Parthenon at the top center with the processional staircases of Propylea leading up to it on left. . . .

This section of the excavated Agora in the foreground with the restored 380-foot long, two-storied Stoa of Attalos in the background was one of the highlights of Athens for Editor Petrie.

USUAL RULES FOR BUYER AND SELLER

These rules prevail for all mail bid sales advertised in Coin World:

1. Bid by lot number. No lots broken up. Bid for entire lot.
2. Bids recorded in order received. In case of tie, first bidder gets lot.
3. No "buy" or "unlimited" bids accepted.
4. No commission charged. Shipping, postage, or insurance costs to be paid by bidder.
5. Credit must be established in advance; or 25% deposit sent with bids.
6. High bidders to be notified, payment to be made on notification.
7. All coins guaranteed genuine and as described. Buyer assumes responsibility for his errors in bidding.
8. No bids accepted from persons under 21 unless signed by parent guaranteeing payment for successful bids.
9. No lots may be returned without written permission, usually granted, but must be asked for within three to five days, after receipt of lot.
10. Any exceptions to above rules will be so stated in offering advertisement.

OFFICIAL COMMEMORATIVE MEDALS

For the important and historical events of our times.

We have been appointed sole distributors of the official, commemorative medals shown below. They have all been issued under the authority of a governing body.

Struck in both bronze and silver, they are each a handsome 2½" in size and come boxed with a printed, informative circular of educational value. In all cases, they have been struck by the world-famous Medallic Art Company from the sculptured models of some of America's foremost sculptors and they are supreme examples of medallic art at its finest.

Their natural-born beauty and massive proportion, combined with historical and numismatic value, make them cherished pieces of heirloom quality.
